Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 25.—Theodore Roosevelt, assistant Secretary of the Navy, was nominated for Governor by the New York Republican state convention here today. The choice was made upon the first ballot.

Col. Roosevelt had a majority over the combined vote for three of his competitors, Col. William Hayward, of New York; District Attorney Guy Moore of Buffalo and Supreme Court Justice Arthur S. Tompkins of Nyack.

OTHERS ON PROGRAM

Congressman Edward Voight of Wisconsin opened the speaking campaign for the LaFollette-Wheeler presidential ticket in this section of the state with an address in Patterson Hall last night. He will deliver several addresses in this section of the state in the next several days.

Congressman Voight occupied considerable time in a defense of LaFollette against the accusations made against him, referring particularly to charges that LaFollette is a radical and that he seeks to break down the Constitution through an attack on the Supreme Court.

In answering the first charge, the Congressman went back to the revolutionary war and asserted that all people who had promoted changes in government were accused as radicals. He declared he hesitated to vote for a man who is not accused of being a radical, because, he said, if the charge is not made he has a feeling that the candidate is serving the vested interests.

Senator LaFollette, he said, proposed to change the Constitution to provide that when Congress passes an act and it is declared unconstitutional by the supreme court, the act may not be declared unconstitutional. The change in the Constitution, he asserted, could only be made by a change of votes of the people. He declared many are saying that the power of the supreme court must be curbed, and that he feels that in many decisions the supreme court has gone beyond the power the Constitution intended it should have.

Congressman J. H. Sinclair of the Third North Dakota district preceded him. He referred briefly to an explanation F. A. Vogel, LaFollette campaign manager, gave of the electoral situation, declaring that if the Republican electors can be withdrawn he did not see why he, Sinclair, could not be withdrawn from the Republican ticket, since he might vote for President if the matter went to Congress on a deadlock.

S. A. Olesnes, Commissioner of Insurance, talked briefly upon state issues, urging support for the Nonpartisan League-endorsed ticket.

Mr. Vogel, in opening the meeting, talked briefly upon the electoral situation, giving his version of it. He declared they had agreed to remove the electors from the ballot in spite of assertions they never intended to. He called M. R. Freerks of Jamestown, quoted as saying that Vogel had said he never intended to withdraw them, as a "common liar." He said they agreed to withdraw the electors providing the LaFollette electors could get the same consideration as the Coolidge, Davis electors. He charged the Secretary of State changed the form of ballot two or three times and that in justice to the LaFollette candidacy he could not withdraw them.

Mr. Vogel washed his hands of the electoral situation, saying that he was through with it and the Republican electors were left with the Republican state committee to do as they see fit.

TAXPAYERS URGE PROMPT ACTION IN PUTTING CITY ENGINEER ON SALARY, FULL TIME BASIS

Editors Note: This is the second of a series of articles touching on city finances as they affect budget making.

Another argument for a whole time, salary basis city engineer, as shall supervise the water works department and city street organization is the fact that much of the present city engineer's time is taken with county business. T. R. Atkinson is county surveyor and as such draws per diem and other fees when actually engaged in county work. He is entitled to these fees under the present arrangement, but office facilities for this work are being supplied by Bismarck taxpayers.

A survey of the records in the county auditor's office shows Mr. Atkinson's income as county surveyor over a period of two years to be as follows:

Willow City Priest Honored

Willow City, N. D., Sept. 25.—Persons from all parts of Bottineau county and a number of priests from both the Fargo and Bismarck dioceses gathered in Willow City Tuesday to join the exercises in honor of the Rev. Father Theodore P. Campeau, who was invested with the rank of domestic prelate of the papal court. As a consequence of receiving this honor, the Rev. Father Campeau who is in charge of Notre Dame Victory church in Willow City, will henceforth carry the title of monsignor.

In connection with the exercises, a banquet was held at which Right Rev. James O'Reilly, bishop of Fargo, Monsignor John Baker of Valley City and Monsignor Leon Campeau of Ottawa, Canada, a cousin of Father Campeau, spoke. James R. Milroy of Minot, past grand knight of the Minot council, Knights of Columbus, served as toastmaster.

Carries Dummy To Fool Bandits

Marmarth, N. D., Sept. 25.—His own peculiar system has been devised by Alex Neuman of Cincinnati, Ohio, in warding off the possibility of attack by highway yeggs. He carries a dummy in the seat of his runabout; the dummy being his constant companion.

"By carrying the dummy," said Neuman when he and his strange companion landed in Marmarth, "I am freed from calls for 'lifts' by professional hitlers, and, if a road yegg should attempt to attack me, I would hold up my hands, and the dummy probably would be shot for not putting up his. In the excitement, I'll make my getaway, or, while the highwayman concentrates his attention on the dummy, I'll shoot the bandit."

In one town, said Neuman, his dummy was mistaken by a police officer for a "drunk," who threatened to jail him.

USES SOCIALIST TICKET
Chicago, Sept. 25.—Rep. John N. Nelson of Wisconsin, national manager of the LaFollette-Wheeler campaign, announced that the independent organization presidential electors in California would be entered under the Socialist party label.

Aboard Dawes Special, enroute to Minnesota, Zumbrota, Minnesota, Sept. 25.—(By the A. P.)—Senator LaFollette, independent candidate for President, was charged by Charles G. Dawes, Republican vice-presidential nominee, in a series of Minnesota speeches today, with having "attacked the Constitution of the United States in order to obtain Socialist support."

"Robert M. LaFollette, in order to get the Socialists, masked himself behind the red flag into his combination to attack the Constitution of the United States," Mr. Dawes declared. "That doesn't go out in this section of the country, for there is no radicalism in the west. What they call radicalism in the west is merely a desire to improve conditions."

Mr. Dawes made this declaration in an address at Rochester and continued the attack on the LaFollette candidacy as he traveled northward toward Minneapolis in rear platform speeches listed for Zumbrota, Red Wing and South St. Paul.

The crowd that greeted Mr. Dawes at Rochester stretched away for almost a hundred yards on all sides of his car and cheered when the speaker in conclusion declared the voters of Minnesota this fall had their choice between the "Constitution of the United States, the American flag and President Coolidge on one hand, and LaFollette standing on the sinking stand of socialism on the other."

WHEELER AT DULUTH TONIGHT

Aboard Wheeler Special, enroute to Duluth, Minn., Sept. 25.—(By the A. P.)—Three addresses were on the schedule of Senator Wheeler, independent candidate for vice-president, as he traveled today toward northern Minnesota. Two of them were fixed for Virginia and Hibbing and his program calls for a night address, his last in Minnesota, before a third ticket rally in Duluth.

ORDINANCE ON I. W. W. URGED

Minot May Pass Measure to
Curb Activities

Minot, N. D., Sept. 25.—Plans for the drawing of an ordinance, making it unlawful for any person to interfere with an individual attempting to employ labor or with a person attempting to procure employment, intended to strike directly at I. W. W. organizers and members, who would urge farm laborers to strike for higher wages, were announced by the city commission yesterday by City Attorney R. H. Bosard. The ordinance would be similar to a state law now on the statute books. Mr. Bosard informed the commissioners.

Members of the commission indicated that they would favor the passage of such an ordinance.

Police Commissioner F. Otto Gross declared that the police have received several complaints relative to alleged I. W. W. organizers who have endeavored, and have sometimes been successful, in influencing laborers not to accept employment offered them by farmers. On several occasions arrests have been made, Mr. Gross said.

Major Washburn Is Defeated

Major Stanley Washburn, well known in North Dakota through his presidency of the North Dakota Lignite Coal Operators' Association and other activities, was defeated for the Republican nomination for Congress in the Third New Jersey District, in this week's primary, according to an article in the New York Times, was active in the Ku Klux Klan. His opponent had been a member of Congress.

FORCE SORLIE TO PROMISE TO SUPPORT 'BOB'

Will be 100 Per Cent For Him
in the Future, He Promises F. A. Vogel

CALLED ON PHONE

Statement Exacted For Him
To Head off Lemke Candidacy for Governor

Nonpartisan League leaders here in efforts to head off filing of petitions placing William Lemke in the race for Governor cracked the whip over the head of A. G. Sorlie, League candidate for Governor.

Demands were made on Sorlie, it is understood, to make a flat-footed declaration for Senator LaFollette for President. Heretofore, Sorlie had made but one declaration in his favor, a statement published prematurely and predicated on the withdrawal of the four Republican electors by the LaFollette forces, which has not been done. In a speech at a League picnic at Dunn Center Sunday, according to the official report in the North Dakota Nonpartisan, he did not mention LaFollette.

F. A. Vogel, LaFollette campaign manager and active leader in the Nonpartisan League, in defending Sorlie, told an audience here that he had got Sorlie on the telephone.

"Mr. Sorlie said recently in a statement that since the LaFollette electors were withdrawn he could declare for LaFollette. I talked with him and he now says that regardless of the four electors' being on the ballot, because of the manipulation and unfairness, in every speech from now on he is 100 percent for LaFollette. He said he spent several hours in the LaFollette headquarters recently in Chicago going over matters."

LEADERS BUSY

Filing of petitions bearing more than the necessary 300 names were expected to place William Lemke of Fargo, former Attorney-General, in the race as a "LaFollette-Wheeler" candidate for Governor. Petitions must be filed in the office of the Secretary of State not later than 5 o'clock today.

Strenuous efforts were made by leading Nonpartisans to prevent the filing of the names. R. W. Frazier, member of the Nonpartisan League State Executive Committee, said he talked with Lemke by telephone and said that he had talked with "C. C. Lund" of Jamestown, a Lemke backer. It also became known that United States Senator Lynn J. Frazier, who is campaigning for Robert M. LaFollette in Illinois, was asked to stop the filing of Lemke petitions.

Sorlie's Promise
F. A. Vogel, LaFollette campaign manager, informed a conference here that A. G. Sorlie, Republican-Nonpartisan candidate for Governor, had informed him that from now on he would be 100 percent for LaFollette in his speeches. This was taken in political circles to mean that Sorlie, whom Vogel said he talked to on the telephone, had been asked to make a flat declaration for LaFollette in order to discourage the candidacy of Lemke.

At noon today both the LaFollette and League headquarters were quiet, except for stenographers and a few of the leaders.

Elector Situation
The presidential electors situation also was unsettled at noon today. Five Republican electors, four of whom are known as LaFollette men, were in the process of going on the ballot. Declarations declared to have been given by the four to R. W. Frazier, chairman of the Republican state committee as controlled by the Nonpartisan League, were returned to them, he said yesterday. Both Frazier and F. A. Vogel said at noon today that there would be no move made by them toward removing the four alleged LaFollette inclined electors from the Republican column.

Meanwhile preparations were under way to file a set of five out and four Coolidge presidential electors in the individual column and also a new set of five LaFollette electors in the individual nominations column.

When the Secretary of State's office received from John Pollock of Fargo, secretary of the Real Republican state committee, petitions placing five Coolidge electors in nomination, it was said at that office that they could not be filed under the designation "Coolidge Republicans" as called for in the petition, since four or five Minnesota points, including Sandstone, St. Cloud, Cass Lake and Willmar, is said to be in line with the solving of this problem.

INSPECTION OF GRAIN DENIED

Grand Forks Embargo Places
To Relieve Car Shortage

Minot, N. D., Sept. 25.—No more cars of grain may be billed to Grand Forks over the Great Northern for the purpose of inspection and to await orders, according to an order issued Tuesday morning and which is understood to be temporary to permit the yards here to be cleared of loaded grain cars.

A similar order, abolishing the privilege of billing loaded grain cars to Minnesota points for sampling and inspection, was issued by the Great Northern, with the consent of the Northwest Regional advisory board, a week ago because of the glutted condition of sidings at these places.

The privilege granted by the road of stopping cars here for inspection by the state mill and the Russell-Miller Milling company, and possibly sending them on after a delay of from one to three days, is said to have been abused by dealers, with a resultant slowing up of grain car movement.

With an almost unprecedented movement of grain to terminal markets at this time, the problem of keeping the traffic moving and returning the cars to the grain districts as speedily as possible is one that the roads are trying to meet as efficiently as possible, it is said, and the abolition of the inspection privilege at Grand Forks and at the Miller-Milling company points, including Sandstone, St. Cloud, Cass Lake and Willmar, is said to be in line with the solving of this problem.

On Monday, 2,152 loaded cars of grain were hauled into Duluth, and 1,647 cars into the Twin Cities.

LARGER LOAN FUND NEEDED

Grand Forks, N. D., Sept. 25.—Officials of the University of North Dakota are attempting to secure additional funds to loan to students as a result of the application for loans made last year, amounting to about $2,000, which is the part of the university loan funds not loaned at present. It is $2,000, stated J. W. Wilkerson, treasurer of the university and chairman of the student loan fund committee. Outstanding loans to students at present number 110 and amount for the major portion of the $16,460.31 at the disposal of the student loan committee.

The university is rated among the 13 highest of 151 educational institutions using funds of the Harmon Foundation of New York City. This rating is based on the efficiency of the local committee in administering and collecting the student loans. Last year the university was allotted $2,000 of the Harmon funds while the amount this year is $1,000.

More Than 300 Names For
Him, For Governor

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 25.—William Lemke of Fargo, whose name was presented by a certain faction of the Nonpartisan League as a candidate for Governor, in the November election, today announced that he would not consider the nomination.

"I am not a candidate for Governor, and will not run," said Mr. Lemke. "I hope petitions nominating me are not filed, and if they are filed I will withdraw."

Mr. Lemke's announcement, it is believed, ends the movement intended to nominate him as a candidate for Governor in opposition to A. G. Sorlie, Nonpartisan League candidate, and Halvor L. Halvorson, Democratic standard-bearer, who is also receiving active support from the Republicans who are unalterably opposed to the Nonpartisan League.

Petitions for nomination, however, were carried to Bismarck today from the Jamestown conference which indorsed him Monday.

COOK ON WAY

Jamestown, N. D., Sept. 25.—Manner Cook, local LaFollette and league leader, has gone to Bismarck loaded with petitions for the nomination of William Lemke for Governor, and LaFollette presidential electors, left here for Bismarck. His intention when he left here was to file the Lemke petitions but the others only in case Chairman Vogel had not another set of LaFollette electors ready to file.

Disagreement Over Concessions Demanded by Great Britain, It Is Said

Berlin, Sept. 25.—(By the A. P.)—The German foreign office issued a statement today explaining that the Anglo-German commercial negotiations had not broken down as reported but only had been postponed. They will be resumed shortly, the statement adds, with every prospect of a satisfactory conclusion.

The commercial negotiations between representatives of the British board of trade and the German trade ministry were begun this week with the object of forming a treaty of commerce between the two nations. Berlin dispatches Wednesday night reported the collapse of the negotiations, the reason being, it was said, that the negotiators had found it impossible to discover a common basis for the proposed instrument.

One of the main difficulties was thought to be a refusal by the Germans to grant concessions demanded by Great Britain for exemption from taxation of British goods exported to Germany under the proposed new German tariff which was understood to provide for duties considered virtually prohibitive on the British products involved.

TAXPAYERS URGE PROMPT ACTION IN PUTTING CITY ENGINEER ON SALARY, FULL TIME BASIS

Editors Note: This is the second of a series of articles dealing with city finances as they affect budget making.

Another argument for a whole time, salary basis city engineer who shall supervise the water works department and city street organization is the fact that much of the present city engineer's time is taken with county business. T. R. Atkinson is county surveyor and as such draws per diem and other fees when actually engaged in county work. Willow City Priest Honored

Willow City, N. D., Sept. 25.—Persons from all parts of Bottineau county and a number of priests from both the Fargo and Bismarck dioceses gathered in Willow City Tuesday to join the exercises in honor of the Rev. Father Theodore P. Campeau, who is invested with the rank of domestic prelate of the papal court. As a consequence of receiving this honor, the Rev. In connection with the exercises, a banquet was held at which Right Rev. Milloy of Minot, past grand knight of the Minot council, Knights of Columbus, served as toastmaster.

These fees are legitimate charges for services performed, but it is the contention of taxpayers engaged in this study of city finances that the city engineer has so many demands upon his time and his services are dispersed over so many jobs that the city could make more economical business arrangement by allotting an engineer a stated salary and by so doing eliminate the superintendent of the water works and a street commissioner whose duties can be taken care of very easily by a full time city engineer now that no new additional public work of any magnitude is contemplated.

Objection Raised
Objection to placing the city engineer upon a salary basis and providing that all fees earned be turned into the city treasury, is made by some city commissioners on the grounds that the city water plant is not completed. That is not a material excuse. An engineer can be hired as soon as possible and the Atkinson commission arrangement with the contract discharged at anytime. Now that the intake at the river is on a cost plus basis, Mr. Atkinson under his contract will be paid five percent commission which of course should not be confused with the three percent commission paid on $250,000 purchase price of the old water plant. That commission is to be the subject for a court inquiry.

If the taxpayers are to be saved money the paid full time city engineer with duties as outlined should be established without delay.

Water works and water extensions contemplated and a ten percent engineering fee rumored on a $100,000 paving job between Bismarck and the state penitentiary on which some of the local railroad officials have been approached.

Now is the time to act if taxes are to be lessened in Bismarck.

ORDINANCE ON I. W. W. URGED

Minot May Pass Measure to
Curb Activities

Minot, N. D., Sept. 25.—Plans for the drawing of an ordinance, making it unlawful for any person to interfere with an individual attempting to employ labor or with a person attempting to procure employment, intended to strike directly at I. W. W. organizers and members who would urge farm laborers to strike for higher wages, were announced to the city commission yesterday by City Attorney R. H. Bosard. The ordinance would be similar to a state law now on the statute books. Mr. Bosard informed the commissioners.

Members of the commission indicated that they would favor the passage of such an ordinance.

Police Commissioner F. Otto Gross declared that the police have received several complaints relative to alleged I. W. W. organizers who have endeavored, and have sometimes been successful, in influencing laborers not to accept employment offered them by farmers. On several occasions arrests have been made, Mr. Gross said.

Major Washburn Is Defeated

Major Stanley Washburn, well known in North Dakota through his presidency of the North Dakota Lignite Coal Operators' Association and other activities, was defeated for the Republican nomination for Congress in the Third New Jersey District in this week's primary, according to word received here. One of the influences against Washburn, according to an article in the New York Times, was activity of the Ku Klux Klan. His opponent had been a member of Congress.

FORCE SORLIE TO PROMISE TO SUPPORT 'BOB'

Will be 100 Per Cent For Him
in the Future, He Prom-
ises F. A. Vogel

CALLED ON PHONE

Statement Exacted For Him
To Head off Lemke Can-
didacy for Governor

Nonpartisan League leaders here in efforts to head off filing of petitions placing William Lemke in the race for Governor cracked the whip over the head of A. G. Sorlie, League candidate for Governor.

Demands were made on Sorlie, it is understood, to make a flat-footed declaration for Senator LaFollette for President. Heretofore, Sorlie had made but one declaration in his favor, a statement published prematurely and predicated on the withdrawal of the four Republican electors by the LaFollette forces, which has not been done. In a speech at a League picnic at Dunn Center Sunday, according to the official report in the North Dakota Nonpartisan, he did not mention LaFollette.

F. A. Vogel, LaFollette campaign manager and active leader in the Nonpartisan League, in defending Sorlie, told an audience here that he had got Sorlie on the telephone.

"Mr. Sorlie said recently in a statement that since the LaFollette electors were withdrawn he could declare for LaFollette. I talked with him and he now says that regardless of the four electors being on the ballot, because of the manipulation and unfairness, in every speech from now on he is 100 percent for LaFollette. He said he spent several hours in the LaFollette headquarters recently in Chicago going over matters."

LEADERS BUSY

Filing of petitions bearing more than the necessary 300 names were expected to place William Lemke of Fargo, former Attorney-General, in the race as "LaFollette-Whisper Progressive" candidate for Governor, until his announcement in Fargo. Petitions must be filed in the office of the Secretary of State not later than 5 o'clock today.

Strenuous efforts were made by leading Nonpartisans to prevent the filing of a "LaFollette-Whisper Progressive" candidate for Governor, until his announcement in Fargo. Petitions must be filed in the office of the Secretary of State not later than 5 o'clock today.

Sorlie's Promise
F. A. Vogel, LaFollette campaign manager, informed a set of have been that A. G. Sorlie, Republican-Nonpartisan candidate for Governor, had informed him that from now on he would be 100 percent for LaFollette in his speeches. This was taken in political circles to mean that Sorlie, whom Vogel said he talked to on the telephone, had been asked to make a flat declaration for LaFollette in order to discourage the candidacy of Lemke.

At noon today both the LaFollette and League headquarters were quiet, except for stenographers and a few of the leaders.

Elector Situation
The presidential electors situation also was unsettled at noon today. Five Republican electors, four of whom are known as LaFollette men, were in position to go on the ballot. Negotiations declined to take place, it was said at that office, because of the glacial condition of sidings at these places.

The privilege granted by the road of stopping cars here for inspection by the state mill and the Russell-Miller Milling company, and possibly sending them on after a delay of from one to three days, is said to have been abused by dealers, with a resultant slowing up of grain car movement.

With an almost unprecedented movement of grain to terminal markets at this time, the problem of keeping the traffic moving and returning the cars to the grain districts as speedily as possible is one that the roads are trying to meet as efficiently as possible, it is said, and the abolition of the inspection privilege at Grand Forks and at the four or five Minnesota points including Sandstone, St. Cloud, Cass Lake and Willmar is said to be in line with the solving of this problem.

On Monday, 2,152 loaded cars of grain were hauled into Duluth, and 1,647 cars into the Twin Cities.

Dr. S. P. Ross, head of the Prison Welfare Association of Philadelphia, was leaning forward in his chair, emphasizing his question with a shake of a long forefinger.

His organization takes care of scores of families of men in prison. Continuing he said: "Society is defeating its own ends in its present methods of handling crime."

"Children, dependent upon the support of a father who is in prison, go hungry and cold. They question cause they cannot pay their rent?" (Continued on page 3)

INSPECTION OF GRAIN DENIED

Grand Forks Embargo Places
To Relieve Car Shortage

Minot, N. D., Sept. 25.—No more cars of grain may be billed to Grand Forks over the Great Northern for the purpose of inspection and to await orders, according to an order issued Tuesday morning and which is understood to be temporary to permit the yards here to be cleared of loaded grain cars.

A similar order, abolishing the privilege of billing loaded grain cars to Minnesota points for sampling and inspection, was issued by the Great Northern, with the consent of the Northwest Regional advisory board, a week ago because of the glacial condition of sidings at these places.

The privilege granted by the road of stopping cars here for inspection by the state mill and the Russell-Miller Milling company, and possibly sending them on after a delay of from one to three days, is said to have been abused by dealers, with a resultant slowing up of grain car movement.

PETITIONS ARE SIGNED

Reported Men Ready to File
More Than 300 Names For
Him For Governor

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 25.—William Lemke of Fargo, whose name was presented by a certain faction of the Nonpartisan League as a candidate for Governor, in the November election, today announced that he would not consider the nomination.

"I am not a candidate for Governor, and will not run," said Mr. Lemke. "I hope petitions nominating me are not filed, and if they are filed I will withdraw."

Mr. Lemke's announcement, it is believed, ends the movement intended to nominate him as a candidate for Governor in opposition to A. G. Sorlie, Nonpartisan League candidate, and Halvor L. Halvorson, Democratic standard-bearer, who is also receiving active support from the Republicans who are unalterably opposed to the Nonpartisan League.

Petitions for nomination, however, were carried to Bismarck today from the Jamestown conference which indorsed him Monday.

COOK ON WAY

Jamestown, N. D., Sept. 25.—Manner Cook, local LaFollette and league leader, has gone to Bismarck loaded with petitions for the nomination of William Lemke for Governor, and LaFollette presidential electors, left here for Bismarck. His intention when he left here was to file the Lemke petitions but the others only in case Chairman Vogel had not another set of LaFollette electors ready to file.

GERMANY TO CONTINUE ITS TRADE PARLEY

Statement Issued Says That Negotiations with British
Not Broken Down

WILL BE RENEWED

Disagreement Over Concessions Demanded by Great Britain, It Is Said

Berlin, Sept. 25.—(By the A. P.)—The German foreign office issued a statement today explaining that the Anglo-German commercial negotiations had not broken down as reported but only had been postponed. They will be resumed shortly, the statement adds, with every prospect of a satisfactory conclusion.

The commercial negotiations between representatives of the British board of trade and the German trade ministry were begun this week with the object of forming a treaty of commerce between the two nations. Berlin dispatches Wednesday night reported the collapse of the negotiations, the reason being, it was said, that the negotiators had found it impossible to discover a common basis for the proposed instrument.

One of the main difficulties was thought to be a refusal by the Germans to grant concessions demanded by Great Britain for exemption from taxation of British goods exported to Germany under the proposed new German tariff which was understood to provide for duties considered virtually prohibitive on the British products involved.

DAVIS GIVEN PRAISE FROM SEN. WHEELER

Reply to Daugherty Is Approved by Vice-Presidential Candidate

Minneapolis, Sept. 24. (By the A. P.)—Before a gathering of LaFollette supporters in Minneapolis today, Senator Wheeler, Democratic vice-presidential candidate, complimented John W. Davis, Democratic national candidate, for his findings on the investigation into the Department of Justice and renewed his attack on General Daugherty.

He repeated an old story of the former bank failure in Chicago and criticized Gen. Daugherty's conduct.

"Progressives should read and appreciate the letter of John W. Davis to Harry Daugherty," he said today. "For myself I appreciate it not merely as an act of courtesy to myself but as an act of intelligence. I am even more pleased to have this note of intelligence struck in one of the opposing camps than I am to have Mr. Davis single me out for an expression of confidence in the work I carried on in Washington."

"I want to show you why you are in danger of getting another Daugherty if ill-fate should give you this man. The men in their possibilities, at least, are too much alike. Their sympathies are alike and their careers are not essentially different."

LIVELY TUNES MARK SHOW

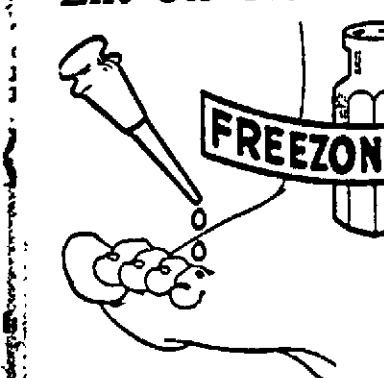

"Little Jessie James" to Abound in Jazz Music

Rapid-fire wit, ludicrous farcical situations and a succession of jumpy tunes go to make up the musical concoction known as "Little Jessie James" which is to be the attraction at the Auditorium, Thursday, Sept. 25. The advance seat sale is very heavy. It was written by Harlan Thompson, who provided the book and the lyrics, and Harry Archer, who composed the music, and is produced by L. Lawrence Weber. Only recently this gayest of musical comedies terminated in a run in New York City which lasted a solid year. It also had a long engagement in Chicago and was undoubtedly the outstanding hit of last season in both cities. The music is extremely popular, one number in particular called "I Love You," having had an enormous sale and been heard everywhere through the medium of the phonograph records. The story concerns a corn-fed dandy who hails from the great State of Kansas and who has earned the sobriquet of Little Jessie James from the fact that he always manages to get what he wants or at least that is his motto. Out home they call her Little Jessie James because she is forever breaking the summary laws which are so plentiful out in that section; for instance, she smokes cigarettes not because she likes them but because it is against the law to do so. Little Jessie comes to New York to find out what she may about "the Great White Way" but after a time discovers that although she has been involved in rather a serious number of adventures, that Broadway has nothing on her home town of Oskaloosa and she goes back a happier and wiser girl. Mr. Weber promises a splendid cast for his production of "Little Jessie James" which includes among its members Jack Kane, Myrtle Miller, Dorothy Dickerson, Burne Norton, Gertrude Maitland, G. Davidson Clark, Alice Parks, Leo Kohlmar and Patricia O'Dare. He particularly calls attention to the chorus which is made up of clever young girls with real ability and to the orchestra which is carried by the organization and which is sponsored and selected by Paul Whiteman. The curtain will rise promptly at 7:15 P. M.

Buy Wives on Time, Now Can't Pay For Them

London, Sept. 24. Many natives of Pondoland, South Africa, are likely to lose wives purchased on extended credit during the past three years because they claim to be unable to complete their payments. The purchase of wives, a credit is not usually allowed among the natives, as there is too much inclination to return the wives in lieu of the purchase price, but a matrimonial moratorium has been in effect during the period of mourning for the death of a paramount chief. This period is now over and the natives who obtained wives on credit must pay up or return the women to their parental kraals. A mysterious shortage is reported in cattle and horses, with which such payments are usually made.

DEATH LIST IN STORM REVISED

St. Paul, Sept. 24. Revision of the death list in the cyclone in Wisconsin cut the number of deaths today from 54 to 43. Confusion in the spelling of foreign names and the temporary disappearance of some members of families, caused the number of deaths in Clark and Taylor counties to be placed at 28, while the actual death list shrank to 19 when verified reports were received.

The Good Maxwell—The Good Friend of Its Owners

Tens of thousands of American families look upon their good Maxwell cars with a feeling akin to positive gratitude.

For the good Maxwell has enabled them to regard the motor car as something more than merely a means of transportation.

If you examine into the basic reasons for such performance, and for

Maxwell's economical, care-free service, you discover that both the new transmission and new rear axle are strong and rugged enough for a truck; that the simple device of a platform spring under the front end of the motor, combined with the balancing of reciprocating parts to the fraction of an ounce, practically eliminates any sense of vibration; that in proportion to weight, it is actually stronger than cars costing two, three or even four times as much.

The good Maxwell is thus fulfilling, with almost startling success, the mission its makers proclaimed four years ago, when they announced that—"The new and powerful organization now manufacturing the good Maxwell is able to give and proposes to give, motor car values so unmistakable that they cannot remain for a moment in question."

CALIFORNIA IS FOR COOLIDGE

Says C. A. Johnson, Back From Tour of Coast

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Johnson of Milwaukee are in the city visiting their daughter Mrs. W. F. Gethman. Mr. Johnson contemplates spending the winter in Los Angeles. He has just returned from an extensive tour of the west.

Speaking of Coolidge's chances in California, he seems confident that the President will carry that state and there seems to be a growing sentiment over the entire Northwest for Coolidge. Mr. Johnson contends.

Mr. Johnson has been prominent in Republican ranks in this state and believes with the proper organization and energy in the campaign that North Dakota can be carried for Coolidge. Mr. Johnson has been the Republican nominee for governor in this state and served several terms in the legislature from Ward county.

AGED AUTO HAS GREAT RECORD

Signed statements by reputable men through whose hands a Willys-Knight coupe, now owned by W. P. Rouse, of Sacramento, Calif., has passed, give ground to the belief that in seven years it has left the longest trail of any motor car in the world without its motor ever once being taken down.

The car has traveled 150,000 miles and it is asserted that in the period during which it was rolling up a mileage equal to six times the distance around the earth at the equator, no person has ever viewed the internal mechanism of the motor.

The Coupe, a model 84-B, engine No. 88,202, was bought by Dr. George A. Spencer, a well-known physician in the Sacramento valley, in November 1917. He disposed of the car in April, 1923. During the years of his ownership the car was in constant use, day and night, Sundays and holidays included.

Dr. Spencer emphatically states that never while he possessed the coupe was the motor opened for any mechanical work whatever.

From Dr. Spencer the car passed into the hands of H. A. Hirsch, of San Francisco, who drove it until last February, when it was taken in by the Willys-Overland dealer at Sacramento, who uses the car constantly in his own work. The car still possesses power and speed and though a grand-dad in performance, will amble along more cheerfully even now than many an automotive youngster.

The good old melodramas of salad days were always clean, always exciting, always entertaining. And that is "Racing Luck" which Herman Raymaker directed.

There is everything in it to entertain and that's the present day function of the motion picture. Rin-Tin-Tin can do every trick a dog can do and many tricks most dogs can't do. He can scale a five-foot hurdle and clear a twenty-five foot stream. Besides his athletic ability he has a remarkable dog intellect.

The story of "Find Your Man" is told in a lumber center. It is full of suspense, thrills, love, and as for action, there can't be a lack of that when Rin-Tin-Tin is present. Paul Andrews, ex-soldier, and Buddy, his training pal, find themselves involved in a plot to steal government lumber. Paul makes the discovery too late, and he is arrested on a charge of theft and murder, of which he is innocent. London, Sept. 25.—(By the A. P.)—A mighty howl against the practice of England's laborite ministers in attending King George's court in full regalia—silk stockings, knee breeches, clinking swords, embroidered coats, buckled shoes, cocked hats and all the rest of it—will probably go up to the rafters in Queens Hall, when the Labor Party holds its 21st annual conference next month.

A dozen resolutions on the subject of the ministers and their wives and daughters wearing court regalia just like the "aristocratic old order" are on the agenda. Some of the resolutions express regret that such is the case, while others protest against it; another merely views it with disfavor.

One resolution to be offered says that if ministers find it absolutely necessary to attend the court they should wear "rational attire" and if not admitted Number 10 Downing street shall be the place to settle the matters requiring His Majesty's presence.

DAVIS BACK IN HOME STATE

Encouragement by his campaign through the west Mr. Davis is determined to conduct a militant campaign on what he has denominated as the three domination issues—common honesty, common justice and common courage—in government.

Northern Bacon Brings Premium in London Market

Bacon produced in western Canada commands a premium in the London market of several cents a pound over the prices paid for bacon produced in the United States corn belt; which is conclusive proof that the bacon made from Northern-grown hogs is distinctly superior in quality.

Sweet Clover bacon is made from choice Northern-grown hogs exclusively; and only from a very select grade of hogs of certain size and weight. Less than 15 per cent of all the hogs received at the Northern Packing company's plant will grade high enough to be used for this select brand of bacon.

You will find Sweet Clover bacon lean, tender, and remarkably delicious. A special, mild, dry cure gives it a flavor that is particularly distinctive and appetizing.

The London housewife pays a fancy premium for this quality of bacon, but you can buy Sweet Clover at the same price you would pay for ordinary bacon produced in the corn belt. Order Sweet Clover and you'll appreciate the difference.

Wagner Secures Orders For 2,265 to be Placed on Burleigh County Farms

ALSO DAIRY COWS

Diversification of farm activities in Burleigh county will receive a big impetus as a result of the activities of Paul C. C. Wagner, district extension agent during the past month. He has secured orders from 40 farmers of the county for 2,265 head of breeding ewes and from 30 farmers for 151 head of dairy cows to be purchased under the plan of the Agricultural Credit Corporation of Minneapolis.

Orders for sheep have been secured at the following places: Baldwin, 450; Began, 250; Lincoln, 400; McKeen, 200; Bismarck territory, 250; and Moffitt, 225. The farmers at Bismarck ordered blackface ewes and the remaining orders are for white-face.

Mr. Wagner is visiting Wang and Sterling at the present time, as all orders for sheep to be purchased thru the corporation must be in by the end of the week. Deliveries will be made about Oct. 15 from Minneapolis.

The corporation loans the money to the farmers for the purchase of the ewes at 6 percent interest with other collateral than the stock purchased, and the increase therefrom. Loans are repaid at the rate of 20 percent at the end of the first year, 30 percent at the end of the second year and 40 percent at the end of the third year. It is calculated that the sale of wool each year will take care of the loan payments, leaving the income from the lambs to pay for labor and feed. A few of the farmers will pay cash for their sheep, but most of them are taking advantage of the corporation offer.

Records of farmers for the past three years, gathered by Rex E. Wilford of the North Dakota Agricultural college, show that sheep have been for the most profitable class of livestock. These records show an average gross income of about $12 per ewe per year and an average total expense of about $8 per head, leaving a net profit of that much.

"If a farmer only breaks even on his sheep, he is really ahead due to their value in keeping down weeds, utilizing waste pasture and returning fertility to the soil," is Mr. Wagner's comment.

At Baldwin orders were secured for 50 head of dairy cows, 10 Jerseys and 46 Holsteins. Orders were placed at Driscoll for 27 Holsteins and 25 milking Shorthorns; at Moffitt for 25 Holsteins, and Menoken for 20 Holsteins. These dairy cows will also be purchased thru the Credit Corporation. The plan is similar except that four years are given for repaying the loans, 10 percent at the end of the first year, 20 percent at the end of the second, 30 percent at the end of the third, and 40 percent at the end of the fourth year.

"Several of these farmers are getting purebred bulls and one or two head of purebred cows," Mr. Wagner reports. "They are expressing an interest in the Burleigh County Cow Testing association, and some will want to join as soon as their stock arrives."

TRENCH SILO IS NEAT WORK

Said to be First in Burleigh County Constructed at Menoken

Construction of what is said to be the first trench silo in Burleigh county is well under way at the McCue & Ishmael farm, southeast of Menoken. The silo is 12 feet wide, 30 feet deep and 40 feet long, and is located next to the barn in a side hill providing good drainage.

"A little initiative and some ground to dig a hole in is about all that is required to construct a trench silo," declares C. T. McCue. "We read an article in a farm magazine regarding this proposition, and decided it would be ideal for our conditions. Most of the work was done with a scraper, as very little plowing was necessary to loosen up the soil."

"We will slope the sides in somewhat to facilitate packing the silage. The corn will be cut up with a silage cutter and placed in the hole with a blower. Then we will use horses to tramp it and pack it down. A covering of straw will be placed on top to prevent the silage from freezing."

Plint, Northwestern dent and Minnesota 13 corn are all being grown on this farm. The Plint and Northwestern dent varieties are ripe enough to pick seed corn at the present time, but the Minnesota 13 is not yet mature. Mr. McCue states that they plan to replace their Shorthorn cattle with a carload of Holsteins this fall.

Several other farmers in the county are planning to dig trench silos this fall according to Paul C. C. Wagner, district extension agent who is stationed here for a few weeks. He urges that farmers who are interested in providing cheap storage for feed visit the McCue & Ishmael farm and examine the partially finished trench silo there.

Organization of the women of North Dakota to assist in the Coolidge campaign will be launched some time next week according to Mrs. L. N. Cary, women's Coolidge manager of North Dakota. Mrs. Cary and Mrs. Fred P. Mann of Devils Lake, the latter republican national committeewoman for North Dakota, have been summoned to Chicago to a general conference of women workers to be held there Saturday. They expect to leave tomorrow.

formed by men attending the Jamestown conference, that they would not file a second set of LaFollette electors, but would be prepared to file their set in the individual nominations column if he failed to do so.

It would be possible, according to information at the office of the Secretary of State, to withdraw names from the ballot after 5 p. m. today and also to fill vacancies, so that the four Republican electors favorable to LaFollette could be withdrawn after today. It is probable that the name of J. H. McCoy of Richland county, Democratic candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, and Miss Lillian Gubelman of Valley City, Democratic nominee for Secretary of State, will be withdrawn in the next five days, according to John Gammons, secretary of the Democratic state committee.

The certification of names of candidates will not go out from the Secretary of State's office just after 5 p. m. today, because of the action pending in the supreme court to remove the LaFollette electors. This will be heard Monday.

RIFT ON BALLOT

A possible rift on the form of the ballot also loomed, when it was learned that Attorney-General George Shafer had given F. A. Vogel an opinion that the Secretary of State could prepare a ballot with columns for the Republican, Democratic and Nonpartisan League parties and but one individual nomination column. The form of ballot which the Secretary of State has announced he intends to prepare would include a separate column for each set of presidential electors named in the individual column.

Jamestown, N. D., Sept. 25.—M. C. Freerks, Nonpartisan League Party candidate for Congress in the Second district whose statement regarding the LaFollette state committee's alleged crooked tax law was published yesterday, said when interviewed today that he was not the least surprised that F. A. Vogel should call him "a liar" and "no doubt," said Mr. Freerks, "he has fixed Mrs. Fisher so she will deny the conversation I overheard, but I am willing to go into court and swear to the statement and I believe any court in the land will believe me before them, as the action of that crowd shows the truth of my statement."

Mr. Freerks alleged he also has evidence of this statement in the fact that he told several Jamestown men of the "Vogel plot" immediately on his return from the conference at which he heard it.

"My statement," said Mr. Freerks, "is several weeks old, but was just given publicity yesterday."

F. A. Vogel, informed of this statement, repeated his assertion that Freerks spoke falsely and declared that he could "blow up Freerks" with a letter he has, and "may do it."

TWO KILLED IN EXPLOSION

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 25.—Two men, Jens Anderson of Buffalo and Marcellus Peterson engineer, were killed when the boiler on a threshing machine engine exploded about six miles south of Buffalo shortly after noon yesterday.

The men were engaged in moving the Andrew Jerspersen threshing rig from one location to another when the accident occurred. It happened at or near the Jerspersen farm. It is not known where Peterson is buried.

Reports indicate no one else was injured.

FIRST COLONIAL CONGRESS MEET CELEBRATED
Colorful Two Day Program at Carpenters Hall and at Valley Forge

Philadelphia, Sept. 25.—(By the A. P.)—The celebration of the 150th anniversary of the meeting of the First Continental Congress and the 250th anniversary of the founding of the Carpenters' Company in whose historic hall the patriots met to discuss the relations of the colonies with the mother country began today.

A colorful two-day program which began at Carpenters' Hall and ends tomorrow afternoon at historic Valley Forge has been arranged. The central theme of the celebration tonight will be the President of the United States.

CALIFORNIA IS FOR COOLIDGE
Says C. A. Johnson, Back From Tour of Coast

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Johnson of Minneapolis are in the city visiting their daughter Mrs. W. F. Gettelman. Mr. Johnson contemplates spending the winter in Los Angeles. He has just returned from an extensive tour of the west.

Speaking of Coolidge's chances in California, he seems confident that the President will carry that state and there seems to be a growing sentiment over the entire Northwest for Coolidge. Mr. Johnson contends that a number of prominent Republicans in this state and believe with the proper organization and energy in the campaign that North Dakota can be carried for Coolidge. Mr. Johnson has been the Republican nominee for governor in this state and served several terms in the legislature from Ward county.

AGED AUTO HAS GREAT RECORD
Signed statements by reputable men through whose hands a Willys-Knight coupe, now owned by W. P. Rouse, of Sacramento, Calif., has passed, give ground to the belief that in seven years it has left the longest trail of any motor car in the world without its motor ever once being taken down.

The car has traveled 150,000 miles and it is asserted that in the period during which it was rolling up a mileage equal to six times the distance around the earth at the equator, no person has ever viewed the internal mechanism of the motor.

The Coupe, a model 84-B, engine No. 88,202, was bought by Dr. George A. Spencer, a well-known physician in the Sacramento valley, in November 1917. He disposed of the car in April, 1923. During the years of his ownership the car was in constant use, day and night, Sundays and holidays included.

Dr. Spencer emphatically states that never while he possessed the coupe was the motor opened for any mechanical work whatsoever.

From Dr. Spencer the car passed into the hands of H. A. Hirsch, of San Francisco, who drove it until last February, when it was taken in by the Willys-Overland dealer at Sacramento, who uses the car constantly in his own work. The car still possesses power and speed and though a grand-dad in performance, will amble along more cheerfully even now than many an automotive youngster.

AT THE MOVIES
CAPITOL
Take a lot of thrills, stir well and add comedy and flavor with romance. There you have an ideal combination. And that is what Monty Banks has supplied in "Racing Luck."

The good old melodramas of salad days were always clean, always exciting, always entertaining. And that is "Racing Luck" which Herman J. Raymaker directed.

There is everything in it to entertain and that's the present day function of the motion picture.

In addition to Monty Banks in the unaltered role that clever comedian has yet portrayed, the cast includes Helen Ferguson, Francis McDonald, Martha Franklin, D. Metrosas and William Blaisdell, at the Capitol theatre.

THE ELLINGE
"Find Your Man" with the famous dog star, Rin-Tin-Tin, will be shown at the Elling theatre, Friday and Saturday.

Rin-Tin-Tin, the well known Belton police dog, was brought over here from France by Lieutenant Duncan, who is responsible for his training. Rin-Tin-Tin can do every trick a dog can do and many tricks most dogs can't do. He can scale a five-foot hurdle and clear a twenty-foot stream. Besides his athletic ability he has a remarkable dog intellect.

The story of "Find Your Man" is told in a human center. It is a full of suspense, thrills, love, and as for action, there can't be a lack of that. Rin-Tin-Tin is present. Paul Andrews, ex-soldier, and Buddy, his canine pal, find themselves involved in a plot to steal government lumber. Paul makes the discovery too late, and he is arrested on a charge of theft and murder, of which he is innocent. The dog's remarkable work comes in Paul's escape and his miraculous rescue from death.

The cast, besides Rin-Tin-Tin, includes Jane Marlowe, the girl with

CYCLONE HITS SOUTH FRANCE
Deluge of Rain Floods Railway Stations; Tracks Washed Out

Paris, Sept. 25.—(By the A. P.)—A storm of cyclonic violence is ravaging southeastern France. The ancient city of Orange has been particularly hard hit. A deluge of rain flooding the railway stations, washing out the tracks and cutting the main railway from Paris to Marseilles, while on the other side of the Rhone a mile of track was washed away.

A bridge collapsed during the passing of a locomotive. Two bodies were found in the debris and it was feared also that others perished. The streets of the city of Nimes were converted into torrents. A number of buildings were struck by lightning and one man was killed by a bolt.

WORLD FLIERS GO UP COAST
Santa Monica, Calif., Sept. 25.—The world fliers led by Lieut. Lowell Smith in the flag plane Chikanao leaped off from here for Cressy Field, San Francisco, at 10:15 a. m. They left Clover field and then turned north over the coast line and five minutes later had disappeared from view beyond the mountains north of Santa Monica. A crowd of about 5,000 saw the planes take off in a cloud of dust that completely obscured them from spectators until they were well in the air.

PROTECTION FOR TOWNS IS SOUGHT
Peking, China, Sept. 25.—(By the A. P.)—An appeal and a warning to rival forces fighting on the Manchurian-Chinese border for the control of the federal government of China, to quit bombing unprotected towns from the air was drafted today at a meeting of Peking foreign government ministers here.

COURT DRESS AROUSES LABOR
Protest Is Made Over the Appearance in Court

London, Sept. 25.—(By the A. P.)—A mighty howl against the practice of England's laborite ministers in attending King George's court in full regalia—ilk stockings, knee breeches, clocking shoes, embroidered coats, buckled hats and all the rest of it—will probably go up to the gallery in Queen's Hall, when the Labor Party holds its 21st annual conference next month.

A dozen resolutions on the subject of the ministers and their wives and daughters wearing court regalia just like the "aristocratic old order" are on the agenda. Some of the resolutions express regret that such is the case, while others protest against it; another merely vows it with disfavor.

One resolution to be offered says that if ministers find it absolutely necessary to attend the court they should wear "rational attire" and if not admitted Number 10 Downing street shall be the place to settle the matters requiring His Majesty's presence.

ARCHBISHOP SERIOUSLY ILL
Condition Little Changed During Morning

Washington, Sept. 25.—Archbishop Messmer of Milwaukee is seriously ill here, suffering from pneumonia and general rheumatic troubles. He has been in the city several days attending the meeting of the Catholic Hierarchy of America.

Physicians in attendance to Archbishop Messmer said a report issued at noon today as "not necessarily fatal" but something serious for a man of his age.

The Archbishop is 77 years of age. He was taken ill early today and physicians said there had been no material change in his condition this morning.

Northern Bacon Brings Premium in London Market

Bacon produced in western Canada commands a premium in the London market of several cents a pound over the prices paid for bacon produced in the United States corn belt; which is conclusive proof that the bacon made from Northern-grown hogs is distinctly superior in quality.

Sweet Clover bacon is made from choice Northern-grown hogs exclusively; and only from a very select grade of hogs of certain size and weight. Less than 15 per cent of all the hogs received at the Northern Packing company's plant will grade high enough to be used for this select brand of bacon.

You will find Sweet Clover bacon lean, tender, and remarkably delicious. A special, mild, dry cure gives it a flavor that is particularly distinctive and appetizing.

The London housewife pays a fancy premium for this quality of bacon, but you can buy Sweet Clover at the same price you would pay for ordinary bacon produced in the corn belt. Order Sweet Clover and you'll appreciate the difference.

The United States Inspection label on all meats produced by this company is an absolute guarantee that every piece of meat is sound, wholesome, and healthful. Look for that label when buying meats—this company's products are marked, "U. S. Inspected and Passed. Establishment 269."

Defeats E. B. Cox in Country Club Open Play

E. H. L. Vesperman is the 1921 golf champion of the Bismarck Country Club. He upset the dope bucket in finishing the championship match 26-holes, nodal play, yesterday afternoon by defeating E. B. Cox four up and three to go.

Vesperman made the first nine holes in 41, the second nine in 43, the third in 47 and had 24 when the play finished, while his opponent had 42, 45, 41 and 27 for his score.

The new champion's name will be engraved on the Little cup.

BANDITS BIND TOWN OFFICER
Truman, Minn., Sept. 25.—After relieving Charles Draf, night marshal here, of his gun, flash light and keys, seven bandits who drove into town about 1 a. m. today, escorted the officer to jail, locked him in a cell and then blew the vault of the Truman National Bank. They escaped with $300 in silver and an undetermined amount of loot taken from eight safety deposit boxes in the vault.

Ford Runs 57 Miles on Gallon of Gasoline
A new automatic and self-regulating device has been invented by John A. Stransky, 1084 Fourth St., Pukwana, South Dakota, with which automobiles have made from 35 to 57 miles on a gallon of gasoline. It removes carbon and reduces spark plug trouble and overheating. It can be installed by any one in five minutes. Mr. Stransky wants distributors and is willing to send a sample at his own risk. THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

THE VARIABLE MR. MEANS

Gaston B. Means, who gave startling evidence against former Attorney-General Harry M. Daugherty in the Washington investigation, now repudiates his confession, holds Mr. Daugherty blameless and says Senator Wheeler "framed" the case and it is reported, repudiates his repudiation, has at last done one thing. He has made unanimous the position that he is worse than any of the men he has accused.

At the time of the Senate investigation there were many complaints against the committee's action in placing so much credence in the testimony of witnesses of known bad character. Means was the chief one. Means' repudiation statement does not clear Mr. Daugherty, but it is conclusive that the testimony given before the Senate committee was not all that it should be, and that it is possible a grave injustice may have been done against many officials in permitting such a fellow as Means to give testimony which was readily accepted as the truth in various parts of the country. The public is not greatly interested in what Means has to say about the innocence of Harry M. Daugherty. He was asked to resign his office by President Coolidge and the action was generally approved. The public would be interested in knowing if Senator Wheeler, who aspires to the second highest office in the gift of the nation, is the sort of a public official who would "frame" another. It won't learn from Means, but it is possible it may learn from other sources.

FARMER

Uncle Sam estimates that, in the last five years, the average farmer made a net profit, on his investment of capital, of a bit less than 3 per cent a year. "Even this meager showing was only made by valuing the labor of farm operators and their families at no more than the current rate for common labor."

This low profit rate was the result of several things, principal being over-production of food. For years this country harped: "Back to the farm!" Scientific agriculture, by increasing crops, has more than made up the shortage of rural man-power.

MILLIONAIRE

How many millionaires have we in America? One estimate was that the war created over 27,000 new millionaires and multitudes.

People you never heard of die worth fabulous sums—one woman 12 millions, a man 40 millions.

How many will we have eventually? The entire national wealth of America is enough to make about 300,000 millionaires. That isn't many, in a population of 114 million people or more.

SONG

Just 100 years since "Annie Laurie" was published. She was a real person, 18, when the song was written by her soldier-of-fortune lover, Captain William Douglas. It was his only song. Or, at least, if he did write others, they failed to survive the acid test of time. But in his one song he embalmed sweet Annie Laurie more enduringly than the ancient Egyptian embalmers were able to preserve their kings.

Music is enduring because it is man's nearest approach to the spiritual.

WEALTHY

Ever hear of Emily A. Watson? She died at White Plains, N. Y., some months ago. Appraisal of her estate reveals that she left a fortune of more than 12 million dollars.

It's an interesting sidelight on our "times," that persons can be worth 12 millions without the public at large ever hearing of them. Yet such cases are becoming quite common. The millionaire used to be spectacular in his rarity. Not now.

HOSS

Here's a horse that has carried a boy 22,000 miles since 1911, to and from school. That wouldn't be a bad mileage for a car. No gasoline. No tires. No parts to be replaced. The horse, of course, has to eat. He has to be garaged and curried. But, all in all, he's the most perfect transportation device to date. And the safest.

The boy who rode the faithful steed—Reuben Wilhelm of Bazine, Kansas.

COST

A railroad has to haul a ton of freight 48 miles to get enough money to buy a pint of ink, 115 miles to buy a monkey wrench, 75 miles for a crossie, 3350 miles to pay a freight train crew for a day's work. So claims Dr. David Fridy, statistics sharp of National Transportation Institute.

The cost, of course, frequently depends on whether or not the road is being milked by a supply company.

BETTER

England, at least, is getting back to normal employment. Her organized workers are 92 per cent employed, trades unions report. Unorganized workers still form a huge army. Unemployment figures will tell you more about European conditions than all the experts and investigators combined. Europe working is Europe rebuilding.

"GAS"

The country at large has been working part-time for months, but it certainly must have had a fat roll hidden behind the clock. There has been plenty of money to spend on motoring.

In the first seven months this year the public used 116 gallons of gasoline for every 100 used in the corresponding months of 1923.

Editorial Review

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

LET'S GET BACK TO EARTH

(Duluth Herald)

The issue in this presidential campaign is very simple. It is this:

Shall America settle down to steady going and regular meals and regular work, growing and building, prospering and progressing?

Or shall it go on a political and economic rampage, imitating, in a milder degree, what has happened in Russia?

Shall America get down to brass tacks with Coolidge?

Or shall it jazz around with LaFollette and his following?

The war brought about a universal upheaval. There was no nation so isolated, no settlement so remote, that it wholly escaped the contagion of disorder.

What translated itself into chaos in Russia and disorder in the rest of Europe, translated itself in America into the various grades of desperation and radicalism that have centered, in this campaign, upon the candidacy of Mr. LaFollette.

There was a world-wide breaking away from old moorings. There was unrest, unsettlement and upheaval. There was disturbance that ranged all the way from revolution, as in Russia, to mere vague irritation and dissatisfaction in America.

This country, perhaps, was affected least of all, but still it was affected by the same war-produced nervous disorder that gave most of Europe a sort of political St. Vitus dance.

This disorder is passing. Europe is well on the way toward recovery. The extremists there have shown thinking men and women everywhere the danger of extremism. In that, at least, they have done humanity a real service.

America, too, is getting back to earth. The day for following after strange political gods is, for most Americans, about over. The day of jazz economics is near an end. It is time for America to get down out of the air upon the solid ground and to clear a straight road for progress.

Can any reasoning American doubt that the way to do that is to get behind the cool, clear, calm and poised leadership of that most sane and sensible American, Calvin Coolidge?

Can any reasoning American doubt that following Mr. LaFollette is to continue in the hazardous paths that lead to heaven knows what lengths of upheaval and disorder?

Senator LaFollette may not be a Socialist; but every Socialist in the country, every follower of Marx and of the proletarian revolution, is with him.

Senator LaFollette may not deliberately intend to scrap the existing American system of government and industry, but every advocate of drastic and revolutionary change except a handful of wild-eyed Communists is back of him.

Americans have no business with these imported doctrines of upheaval and revolution, with fantastic schemes of burning down the barn to get rid of the rats.

The American system, born on American soil and devised and carried on by patriotic American minds and hearts, is capable of any sound improvement, and it is good enough for Americans.

Shall Minnesota, with its rich stake in stable prosperity, with its thousands of contented American minds and hearts, be its prosperous business enterprises, small and great, with its people depending for peace and prosperity upon steady profits and regular employment and good wages, run the risk of trying the hazardous enterprises of the miscellaneous cults that surround Mr. LaFollette?

Or shall Minnesota, confident in its loyalty to the country and to the best interests of every man, woman and child in America, sure of its devotion to steady and ordered and sound progress, follow President Coolidge, the sound, the calm, the righteous, the fair-minded, the just leader whose success in November means the continuance of the best traditions of American progress?

Shall Minnesota get down to brass tacks with Coolidge?

Or shall Minnesota jazz around with LaFollette?

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

Nancy and Nick and the Sand Man left the house of the kind General Wizard in the treetops and went toward the house of the Sour Old Woman Who Lived Under the Water-Fall.

Tap, tap, tap! they went on her front door.

The Sour Old Woman herself opened it.

"How do you do?" she said sourly.

"What do you want?"

"We came to get my bag of sleepy sand," said the Sand Man. "Somebody stole it."

"Well, I can't help that, can I?" said the Sour Old Woman.

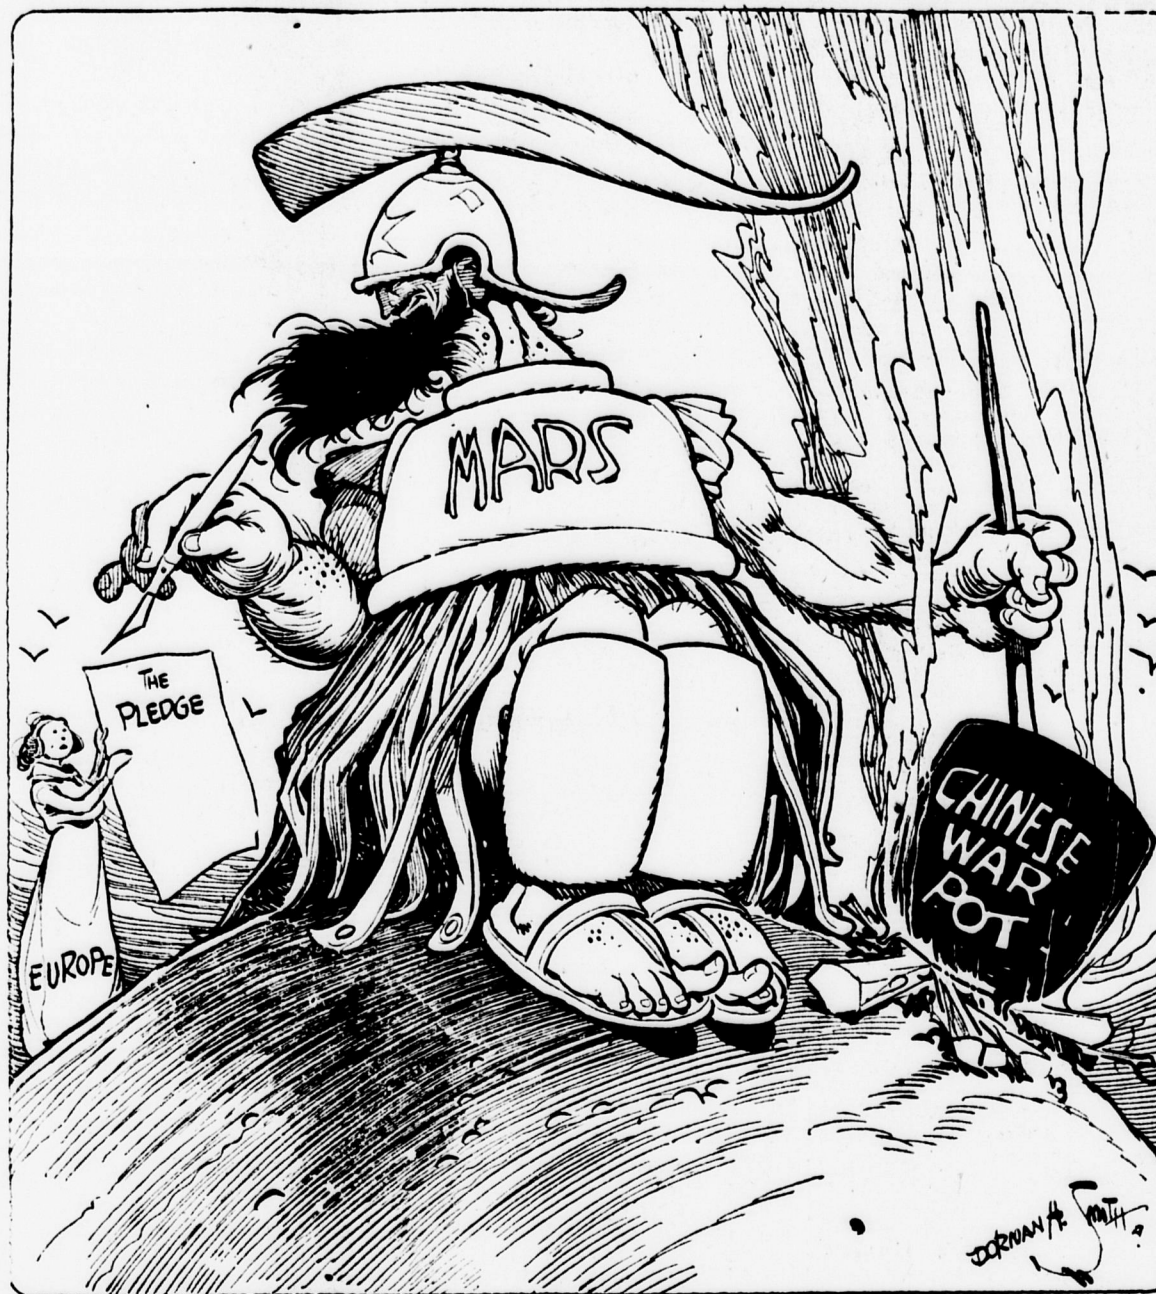

"Maybe not," said Nick. "But you can help us. It's time for all the babies to go to sleep and they can't unless the Sand Man finds his bag of sleepy sand. We just came from the Green Wizard's house and we looked into his magic gazing ball."

"What's that?" shouted the Sour Old Woman. "What's all this about a magic gazing ball? What did you see?"

"We saw Tweekanoe come to your house and put the magic sand under the floor," said Nick.

At that the Sour Old Woman smiled a sour smile and opened her door wide.

My whole life, Ruth, is bound up in John and my adopted son. Perhaps if I were of a lighter type of woman, I would make John happier. I remember his telling me once that there were women in this world who have loved men devotedly and yet made them unhappy every day in the week. I don't want to be one of that kind of women.

I know it would break my heart to have John go out of my life, yet I cannot bear this constant quarreling we have seemed to have lately.

It may seem to you, my dear, strange that a woman in my condition should morbidly think of leaving her husband. Of course, with me, neither myself nor my children would be dependent upon John for support.

The other day at a luncheon a number of newly-wedded women were discussing another one who was just getting a divorce.

Said one of them: "I think I would have tried to stick it out a little longer had I been Lucille. A man usually comes back repentant and contrite."

"But it takes so much out of you!" I said impulsively. "There are other things beside a tear too much or a kiss too long that change life so it is never the same again."

"I think," said another woman about the table, "that it is because we are less patient than our mothers and grandmothers were that the proportion of divorces to marriages has reached such an alarming figure."

"No," answered another woman, "I believe there were just as many unhappy women and just as many impatient women belonging to the middle Victorian era as there are today. But divorce is now more prevalent because there are more women who are economically independent."

"What a horrid idea," spoke up a bride.

"Not at all," answered the speaker. "I believe many of our mothers and grandmothers stuck it out because they just didn't know what else to do. Now almost all women know that somewhere, if they will honestly work, they will find a husband's support is not necessary. Consequently they do not submit as often to anything that is not a fifty-fifty proposition."

"But the children," spoke up another.

"Yes, what of the children?" interrupted an older woman who had the reputation of being a very unhappy wife. "I wish some one would decide for me whether it would be better for children to grow up in a home with constantly bickering parents, a home filled with unhappiness or unrest, or whether they would be better off if the parents separated and they went with either one or the other of them."

"I sometimes think," she added almost to herself, "that 'home' is another one of those words that we worship blindly without stopping to think of what it might be composed of."

Ruth, this conversation was extremely illuminating to me. I found out that other women were not only thinking but discussing the very question that seemed in my case unique.

CRAZY, EN? AND WHAT'S YOUR DEFENCE? SPLIT PERSONALITY?

IT DOES MAKE A DIFFERENCE

By Albert Apple

You frequently hear a man say in lemonade tones: "Aw, it don't make much difference who's elected. The people are the goat, no matter who wins."

This indifferent attitude, toward politics is as contagious as smallpox. And it is spreading. More than any other factor, it is responsible for the increasing tendency of citizens to fail to cast their ballots—nearly half staying away from the polls in the 1920 presidential election.

Shout it from the house-tops: It DOES make a difference who is elected. American municipalities long since learned that it does make a difference whether a community's chief of police is a strict law enforcer or in league with the underworld.

They long since learned that plunging a nation into war and sending the voters out to be shot at, depends principally on the makeup of Congress.

They long since learned that it does make a difference whether their boss in business is kindly and fair or heartless and slave-driving.

And it does make a difference, who's elected to any political job—to all political jobs—from president down to dog catcher.

The cynical growl that it "Don't make no difference who's elected," is BIG TALK. It is preposterously false, obviously false.

In electing the president and other political office holders this fall you are to large extent determining what will happen to your pocketbook's contents in the next four years. The choice of president and other national employees will unquestionably have an important effect in shaping the cost of living and the conditions under which the rising generation will live.

Any man with common sense will see this. And he will not fail to vote.

Before voting, he will listen to both sides—rather, to all sides—in an attempt to arrive at the truth before selecting his favorite. Political speeches are not as interesting as Thrill Murders and baseball and movies, but they occasionally have horse sense and, if backed by popular support, can lead to solutions of many of our greatest problems.

Increasingly, as the American people have taken politics less seriously, economic problems have become more serious. Accept the politician's Bunk with a grin, in one ear and out the other. But watch for Common Sense, then back it—for your own and your family's prosperity, welfare and happiness.

New York, Sept. 25.—Broadway on matinee day. Rain pelting down. The bargain day theatre prices attract largest crowds. New York is thrifty.

Umbrellas look like gigantic mushrooms, sprouting in a cold rain. Taxicabs crowding for an inch of advantage. It took 40 minutes to ride nine blocks in a street car.

Bubbling girls and matronly women dashing to the theatre. Gracious, how the mud puddles splash those fashionable white stockings.

A sprinkling of men sneaking into the theatre. Wonder why they aren't working? Oh well, it's none of my business. I am.

Pallid faced sylphs, with lips of vivid red. Seldom are they seen on the street before the lights are turned on for an evening of frivolity. But the afternoon people lure them from their apartment dens.

CELLAR CLEANING TIME

With fall days approaching, the Jones family gave a thought to "putting up fruit for the winter" and getting the cellar in shape.

It was surprising how much junk had gathered during the summer; boxes in which vegetables had been placed; odds and ends left by the youngsters, all sorts of things.

Everybody should give a thought to the cellar at least twice a year. Boxes that may have contained decayed vegetables should be cleaned out. Air the place as thoroughly as possible and then sweep the walls, ceiling and floor. Then air again.

Remember air from the cellar permeates the house and be careful that no refuse gathers to poison this air. Give the cellar a weekly inspection to make certain no decayed matter or dirty refuse has gathered.

Get the coal bins cleaned out now that the furnace is not in use. Be certain that the furnace pipes are cleaned out before winter sets in.

Federation Meet Report Given By Mrs. Zuger

Mrs. Alfred Zuger, only delegate from Bismarck at the National Federation meeting at Los Angeles, gave a report of the convention at the meeting yesterday of the Current Events club. In her comprehensive talk, Mrs. Zuger described the splendid hospitality of the California clubs, committees of which had been preparing for the convention for a year.

She gave a detailed account of the various committee reports, and talks given by such prominent women as Mrs. Gene Stratton Porter, Princess Cantacuzene, Mrs. Sherman, Mrs. J. Burdette, and Mrs. Thomas Winter, former president of the Federation.

The majority of the North Dakota delegation went to Hollywood to go through the studios, Mrs. Zuger said, which she described as a place of beautiful homes, with nothing "breath taking or wild about the place." The motion picture actresses should be judged for their artistic merits alone, Mrs. Zuger thinks. About fifty of the stars of the profession addressed the women during their sessions, including Lois Wilson, Mrs. Wallace Reid, Charles Ray and others.

The installation of the new officers made a brilliant scene, subdued with the emotion of parting with so great a leader as Mrs. Winter.

Among some of the resolutions adopted by the convention were those for the abolition of bad literature, a woman's congress for peace, a demand for prohibition enforcement, urging women to show their approval of clean journalism by buying only the kind of newspaper they would wish to read in their homes, and the approval of bible reading in the schools, and a host of others.

The formation of a junior auxiliary department was advocated by Mrs. Sherman, the purpose being to train girls to better understand the best things in life, and prepare them for the larger work which is theirs when they become women.

Mrs. Kerr Gives Vivid Account of Life in Far East

As director of the Hilltop orphanage in Sidon, Lebanon, in Syria, Mrs. Alma B. Kerr writes interestingly of her work, and of some of the age old cities, Jerusalem, and Bethlehem, in a letter just received by Mrs. Alfred Zuger. Mrs. Kerr is known to many Bismarck residents, having taught in the county and visited in the city, as well as to people throughout the state. She went to her work in the Far East about a year ago. Her letter follows:

"I wish I were with you (at Los Angeles) and could see the golden west beyond the Rockies. They say sunny Syria is much like California, and if it is, I know I should love it. Do you know I find myself becoming a socialist. When I think of the wonderful inventions in America, but with the grind and labor of it all, I wonder if this primitive country with its prehistoric methods is not nearer to the truth than we. They are happy surely, and find time to love each other. No country in the world has a greater family love than the Syrians. The shopkeeper takes his baby to the shop where he is passed around for his friends to admire. I am sure I could never stand New York, after having lived here in this quiet and peace.

Have had several weeks in Jerusalem, Nazareth, and Bethlehem doing tourist work. Three of us were sent down to represent the orphanages in Syria to the American tourists who came through on the Tuscany. It was not such fun as one might think, but it was very gratifying to meet so many people who came fresh from home, and seemed so interested in our work. In Nazareth we have an orphanage of 150 boys who are largely supported by South Carolina. Their home is on the crest of one of the seven hills on which Nazareth is built, and is in some old farm buildings. The boys farm, and they have a carpenter shop in Nazareth near one where Joseph is said to have had his.

Twenty little boys gather there daily and make little things out of olive wood for sale, the proceeds go towards keeping their home. Over 400 Americans visited this home in the three days I was there, and not one of them went away without saying that they really felt it an inspiration to them to see the little American wards at work there. The boys sang for them and made lemonade for them. They were so proud to have Americans come and see them. At the Orphanage here, over 200 came. Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Jessup were here alone.

Jerusalem is more disappointing than ever. The quaint old Arab with his loose flowing robe and long beard has almost entirely disappeared and in his stead one sees the Jewish flapper and her beau walking up and down. There are 1800 American Jews in and around Jerusalem, and with them come all the latest New York garments. I lived down in the Austrian Hospice which is the oldest quarter of Jerusalem so saw few of the newer Jerusalem types until we went to the other side of the city. I never dreamed three years could make such a difference, but it is certain that the whole city has changed.

Bethlehem is also disappointing as the guards are still stationed before the place of nativity, and are armed ready to attack anyone who fights. The guard on duty the day I was there was a Mohammedan, and he told me that the three religions, Armenians, Greeks, and Catholics, were forever fighting about the place. We have a number of little boys learning scientific farming in Bethlehem, and also about 20 working in mother of pearl products. Bethlehem is noted for beads.

I have not been in Hilltop very much this summer. I just came back in the nick of time as we are receiving nearly 400 little girls. Nearly 200 are here already and you have no idea what it means to have one's family increased so rapidly. We have to examine them carefully, before bath, give them clean clothes, new beds, sheets, and everything they have has to be sterilized so that no new scabies or other infectious diseases come in. These children are coming from another orphanage so they are very clean, but we have to go through the same process anyway.

The first few nights they are lonely, and can not talk to the Syrian children or teachers, and in general it is not a very happy time for them. I speak Turkish to them, so make friends readily. Children forget so soon, and in a day or two it is home to them."

I went to see Hattie Rogers, the nurse girl whom I gave your bag to, and I found a sweet little uniformed nurse on private duty in the Government hospital there. She has done so well, and when I recall her condition when I first came here, and think of her now a young lady, and doing such good work, I swell with real pride.

We have 15 girls out in training now for nurses. But I think Hattie does the best of all. Poor child, can you imagine what she has done with her first months pay? Bought me pink organdie for a dress and here it stares at me every time I come into my room. I do not know what to do with it for she needs it so much more than I ever could have. But it is not wonderful that they have such generous hearts.

I have been quite well, and would be in perfect health were it not for the occasional attacks of malarial fever which I have contracted somewhere. It is so burning hot though, that one is apt to think one has a fever. Today it is so hot that I had to get up early, the bed was so hot. Now I must stop and receive the visitors who are coming for a service."

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

THE VARIABLE MR. MEANS
Gaston B. Means, who gave startling evidence against former Attorney-General Harry M. Daugherty in the Washington investigation, now repudiates his confession, holds Mr. Daugherty blameless and says Senator Wheeler "framed" the case and it is reported, repudiates his repudiation, has at last done one thing. He has made unanimous the position that he is worse than any of the men he has accused.

At the time of the Senate investigation there were many complaints against the committee's action in placing so much credence in the testimony of witnesses of known bad character. Means was the chief one. Means' repudiation statement does not clear Mr. Daugherty, but it is conclusive that the testimony given before the Senate committee was not all that it should be, and that it is possible a grave injustice may have been done against many officials in permitting such a fellow as Means to give testimony which was readily accepted as the truth in various parts of the country. The public is not greatly interested in what Means has to say about the innocence of Harry M. Daugherty. He was asked to resign his office by President Coolidge and the action was generally approved. The public would be interested in knowing if Senator Wheeler, who aspires to the second highest office in the gift of the nation, is the sort of a public official who would "frame" another. It won't learn from Means, but it is possible it may learn from other sources.

FARMER
Uncle Sam estimates that, in the last five years, the average farmer made a net profit, on his investment of capital, of a bit less than 3 per cent a year. "Even this meager showing was only made by valuing the labor of farm operators and their families at no more than the current rate for common labor."

This low profit rate was the result of several things, principal being over-production of food. For years this country harped: "Back to the farm!" Scientific agriculture, by increasing crops, has more than made up the shortage of rural man-power.

MILLIONAIRE
How many millionaires have we in America? One estimate was that the war created over 27,000 new millionaires and multitudes.

People you never heard of die worth fabulous sums—one woman 12 millions, a man 40 millions.
How many will we have eventually? The entire national wealth of America is enough to make only about 300,000 millionaires. That isn't many, in a population of 114 million people or more.

SONG
Just 100 years since "Annie Laurie" was published. She was a real person, 18, when the song was written by her soldier-of-fortune lover, Captain William Douglas. It was his only song. Or, at least, if he did write others, they failed to survive the acid test of time. But in his one song he embalmed sweet Annie Laurie more enduringly than the ancient Egyptian embalmers were able to preserve their kings.
Music is enduring because it is man's nearest approach to the spiritual.

WEALTHY
Ever hear of Emily A. Watson? She died at White Plains, N. Y., some months ago. Appraisal of her estate reveals that she left a fortune of more than 12 million dollars.
It's an interesting sidelight on our "times," that persons can be worth 12 millions without the public at large ever hearing of them. Yet such cases are becoming quite common. The millionaire used to be spectacular in his rarity. Not now.

HOSS
Here's a horse that has carried a boy 22,000 miles since 1911, to and from school. That wouldn't be a bad mileage for a car. No gasoline. No tires. No parts to be replaced. The horse, of course, has to eat. He has to be garaged and curried. But, all in all, he's the most perfect transportation device to date. And the safest.
The boy who rode the faithful steed—Reuben Wilhelm of Bazine, Kansas.

COST
A railroad has to haul a ton of freight 48 miles to get enough money to buy a pint of ink, 115 miles to buy a monkey wrench, 75 miles for a crossie, 3350 miles to pay a freight train crew for a day's work. So claims Dr. David Frid'y, statistics sharp of National Transportation Institute.
The cost, of course, frequently depends on whether or not the road is being milked by a supply company.

BETTER
England, at least, is getting back to normal employment. Her organized workers are 92 per cent employed, trades unions report. Unorganized workers still form a huge army. Unemployment figures will tell you more about European conditions than all the experts and investigators combined. Europe working is Europe rebuilding.

"GAS"
The country at large has been working part-time for months, but it certainly must have had a fat roll hidden behind the clock. There has been plenty of money to spend on motoring.

In the first seven months this year the public used 116 gallons of gasoline for every 100 used in the corresponding months of 1923.

Editorial Review

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

LET'S GET BACK TO EARTH

(Duluth Herald)
The issue in this presidential campaign is very simple. It is this:

Shall America settle down to steady going and regular meals and regular work, growing and building, prospering and progressing?

Or shall it go on a political and economic rampage, imitating, in a milder degree, what has happened in Russia?

Shall America get down to brass tacks with "coolidgeism"? Or shall it jazz around with LaFollette and his following?

The war brought about a universal upheaval. There was no nation so isolated, no settlement so remote, that it wholly escaped the contagion of disorder.

What translated itself into chaos in Russia and disorder in the rest of Europe, translated itself in America into the various grades of desperation and radicalism that have centered in this campaign, upon the candidacy of Mr. LaFollette.

There was a world-wide breaking away from old moorings. There was unrest, unsettlement and upheaval. There was disturbance that ranged all the way from revolution, in Russia, to mere vague irritation and dissatisfaction in America.

This country, perhaps, was affected least of all, but still it was affected by the same war-produced nervous disorder that gave most of Europe a sort of political St. Vitus dance.

This disorder is passing. Europe is well on the way toward recovery. The extremists there have shown thinking men and women everywhere the danger of extremism. In that, at least, they have done humanity a real service.

America, too, is getting back to earth. The day for following after strange political gods is, for most Americans, about over. The day of jazz economics is near an end.

It is time for America to get down to earth, to clear the fog of ground and to clear a straight road for progress.

Can any reasoning American doubt that the way to do that is to get behind the cool, clear, calm and poised leadership of that most sane and sensible American, Calvin Coolidge?

Can any reasoning American doubt that following Mr. LaFollette is to continue in the hazardous path that leads to heaven knows what lengths of upheaval and disorder?

Senator LaFollette may not be a Socialist; but every Socialist in the country, every follower of the Marx doctrine of the proletariat revolution, is with him; not deliberately intend to scrap the existing American system of government and industry, but every advocate of drastic and revolutionary change except a handful of wild-eyed Communists is back of him.

Americans have no business with these imported doctrines of upheaval and revolution, with fantastic schemes of burning down the barn to get rid of the rats.

The American system, born on American soil and devised and carried on by patriotic American minds and hearts, is capable of any sound improvement, and it is good enough for America.

Shall America, with its rich seas in viable prosperity, with its thousands of comfortable homes in city and country, with its prosperous business enterprises, small and great, with its people depending for peace and prosperity upon steady profits and regular employment and good wages, run the risk of trying the hazardous enterprises of the miscellaneous cults that surround Mr. LaFollette?

Or shall Minnesota, confident in its loyalty to the country and to the best interests of every man, woman and child in America, sure of his devotion to steady and ordered and sound progress, follow President Coolidge, the sound, the calm, the righteous, the fair-minded, the just leader whose continuance of the best traditions of American progress?

Shall Minnesota get down to brass tacks with Coolidge? Or shall Minnesota jazz around with LaFollette?

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

BY OLIVE BORRETS BARTON

Nancy and Nick and the Sand Man left the house of the kind Green Wizard in the treets and went toward the house of the Sour Old Woman Who Lived Under the Water-Fall.

Tap, tap, tap! they went on her front door.
The Sour Old Woman herself opened it.

"How do you do?" she said sourly.
"What do you want?"

"We came to get my bag of sleepy sand," said the Sand Man. "Somebody stole it."

"Well, I can't help that, can I?" said the Sour Old Woman.

"Maybe not," said Nick. "But you can help us. It's time for all the babies to go to sleep and they can't unless the Sand Man finds his bag of sleepy sand. We just came from the Green Wizard's house and we looked into his magic gazing ball."

"What's that?" shouted the Sour Old Woman. "What's all this about a magic gazing ball? What did you see?"

A Firm Believer in Not Letting the Left Hand Know What the Right Hand Is Doing

"Come right in, all of you," said he. "I just wanted to see how smart you were. Of course Tweedknew stole the sleepy sand. He loves to tease the babies, the rascal, and he has always been jealous of the Sand Man. You'll find the bag of sand right here."

She lifted a loose board in the floor and pointed down to the cellar.

"Jump down and get it," she said. Down jumped Nancy and down jumped Nick and down jumped the Sand Man.

But no sooner had they all jumped down into the Sour Old Woman's cellar than she let the board fall down into its place again, and there they were!

"Goodness!" said the Sand Man. "Here's the sleepy sand all right. But much good it does me when I can't get out."

"Don't worry," said Nancy. "We have our magic shoes."

"That's right!" said the Sand Man in a relieved voice. "You and Nick can get out in fine shape. But I can't."

"Why?" asked Nick. "Haven't you any magic along?"

"Lots," said the Sand Man. "But somebody will have to stay here and make a noise to fool the Sour Old Woman, or she'll know we have gone. It's two o'clock now and time for afternoon naps."

"I have a plan," said Nancy all at once. "Nick and I can take the sleepy sand and sprinkle it around while you stay here. Then we'll come back and get you."

"That's a fine idea," said the Sand Man.

So the Twins took the bag of sleepy sand and away they went, slipping through walls and everything in their magic shoes. And it wasn't long until all the babies were asleep. The world was very, very quiet.

But the poor Sand Man was tired. He had had a hard day traveling all the way from Shut-Eye Town where he lived, and with his hay-fever and everything, he was worn out.

And instead of stamping around to fool the Sour Old Woman, he fell asleep.

My whole life, Ruth, is bound up in John and my adopted son. Perhaps I were of a lighter type of woman, I would make John happier. I remember his telling me once that there were women in this world who have loved men devotedly and yet made them unhappy every day in the week. I don't want to be one of that kind of women.

I know it would break my heart to have John go out of my life, yet I cannot bear this constant quarreling we have seemed to have lately.

It may seem to you, my dear, strange that a woman in my condition should morbidly think of leaving her husband. Of course, with me, neither myself nor my children would be dependent upon John for support.

The other day at a luncheon a number of newly wedded women were discussing another one who was just getting a divorce.

Said one of them: "I think I would have tried to stick it out a little longer had I been Lucille. A man usually comes back repentant and contrite."

"But it takes so much out of you!" I said impulsively. "There are other things beside a tear too much or a kiss too long that change life so it is never the same again."

"I think," said another woman about the table, "that it is because we are less patient than our mothers and grandmothers were that the proportion of divorces to marriages has reached such an alarming figure."

"No," answered another woman, "I believe there were just as many unhappy women and just as many impatient women belonging to the mid-Victorian era as there are today. But divorce is now more prevalent because there are more women who are economically independent."

"What a horrid idea," spoke up a bride.

"Not at all," answered the speaker. "I believe many of our mothers and grandmothers stuck it out because they just didn't know what else to do. Now almost all women know that somewhere, if they will honestly work, they will find a husband's support is not necessary. Consequently they do not submit as often to anything that is not a fifty-fifty proposition."

"But the children," spoke up another.

"Yes, what of the children?" interrupted an older woman who had the reputation of being a very unhappy wife. "I wish some one would decide for me whether it would be better for children to grow up in a home with constantly bickering parents, a home filled with unhappiness or unrest, or whether they would be better off if the parents separated and they went with either one or the other of them."

"I sometimes think," she added almost to herself, "that 'home' is another one of those words that we worship blindly without stopping to think of what it might be composed of."

Ruth, this conversation was extremely illuminating to me. I found out that other women were not only thinking but discussing the very question that seemed in my case unique.

CRAZY, EH? AND WHAT'S YOUR DEFENSE? "SPLIT PERSONALITY!"

IT DOES MAKE A DIFFERENCE

By Albert Apple

You frequently hear a man say in lemonade tones: "Aw, it don't make much difference who's elected. The people are the goat, no matter who wins."

This indifferent attitude toward politics is as contagious as smallpox. And it is spreading. More than any other factor, it is responsible for the increasing tendency of citizens to fail to cast their ballots—nearly half staying away from the polls in the 1920 presidential election.

Shout it from the house-tops: It DOES make a difference who is elected. American municipalities long since learned that it does make a difference whether a community's chief of police is a strict law enforcer or in league with the underworld.

They long since learned that plunging a nation into war and sending the voters out to be shot at, depends principally on the makeup of Congress.

They long since learned that it does make a difference whether their boss in business is kindly and fair or heartless and slave-driving.

And it does make a difference, who's elected to any political job—to all political jobs—from president down to dog catcher.

The cynical growl that it "Don't make no difference who's elected," is BIG TALK. It is preposterously false, obviously false.

In electing the president and other political office holders this fall you are to large extent determining what will happen to your pocketbook's contents in the next four years. The choice of president and other national employees will unquestionably have an important effect in shaping the cost of living and the conditions under which the rising generation will live.

Any man with common sense will see this. And he will not fail to vote.

Before voting, he will listen to both sides—rather, to all sides—in an attempt to arrive at the truth before selecting his favorite. Political speeches are not as interesting as Thrill Murders and baseball and movies, but they occasionally have horse sense and, if backed by popular support, can lead to solutions of many of our greatest problems.

Increasingly, as the American people have taken politics less seriously, economic problems have become more serious. Accept the politician's Bunk with a grin, in one ear and out the other. But watch for Common Sense, then back it—for your own and your family's prosperity, welfare and happiness.

New York, Sept. 25.—Broadway on matinee day. Rain pelting down. The bargain day theatre prices attract largest crowds. New York is thrifty.

Umbrellas look like gigantic mushrooms, sprouting in a cold rain. Taxicabs crowding for an inch of advantage. It took 40 minutes to ride nine blocks in a street car.

Bubbling girls and matronly women dashing to the theatre. Gracious, how the mud puddles splash those fashionable white stockings. A sprinkling of men sneaking into the theatre. Wonder why they aren't working? Oh well, it's none of my business, I am.

Pallid faced sylphs, with lips of vivid red. Seldom are they seen on the street before the lights are turned on for an evening of frivolity. But the afternoon theatre lures them from their apartment dens.

A night watchman with sand in his eyes. Tonight on duty he'll make up for the sleep he lost today.

There goes the head waiter of an exclusive supper club. He is so automatic he snubs people willing to pay covert charges. But he's all wet. Rain is a great equalizer. He argues with the man in the theatre ticket window—and gets put in his place.

No wonder they cage ticket sellers. That's the first time I ever saw anybody best a head waiter in a word encounter.

The college boys and matinee shields wear bright yellow oilskin coats in the seasonable showers. It reminds one of Tulsa, Okla., with an oil well about to be shot.

A man selling umbrellas for $1. And doing a thriving business. Someday a fight over an umbrella will start another world war. If you don't believe it, have one jabbed in your eye.

A blind beggar, wanting to cross Broadway in the maelstrom of traffic, bangs his cane on the curb for attention. Scores pass him by, unnoticed. A lanky newsboy, grasps him by the arm and pilots him through the maze of automobiles.

The sun is peeking through the clouds. It ain't gonna rain no more. Lost children usually are returned to their parents within a few hours. And scores of them are picked up by police every day.

But the identity of John Doe, No. 112, an attractively boy of three, who was found three months ago wandering along Third avenue has never been determined.

For weeks he would not talk. But now he laughs and plays. When Robert Plaut Levy, 23, went before a Supreme Court Justice to change his name, because he claimed it was distasteful to him, he discovered that the judge's name was Levy. But the justice merely laughed and permitted him to change his monicker to Lane. Everybody is happy now.

FABLES ON HEALTH
CELLAR CLEANING TIME
With fall days approaching, the Jones family gave a thought to "putting up fruit for the winter" and getting the cellar in shape.

Remembering that from the cellar permeates the house and be careful that no refuse gathers to poison this air. Give the cellar a weekly inspection to make certain no decayed matter or dirty refuse has gathered.

Get the coal bins cleaned out now that the furnace is not in use. Be certain that the furnace pipes are cleaned out before winter sets in.

THREE OF EIGHT SERIES WON BY MCGRAW

Giants "Master Mind" Wins Many Pennant Laurels But Fails to Get Majority Title Triumphs

New York, Sept. 25.—John McGraw, "master mind" of the New York Giants, has led his forces into eight of the nine series called for the best five out of nine games to decide the championship and it took eight contests before the Boston Americans vanquished Pittsburgh. With the same regulation prevailing, eight games were required before Cincinnati, the victor of the Chicago White Sox in 1919 and the Giants downed the Yankees in 1921, while Cleveland and Brooklyn met seven times in 1920 before the Indians triumphed. The seven-game rule has been in effect again since 1923.

The quickest series on record was that of 1914 when the Boston Braves, after their sensational pennant drive, overthrew Connie Mack's Athletics in four straight games. The Chicago Cubs, conquering Detroit in 1907, and the Giants, downing the Yankees in 1921, also hung up records of four victories and no defeats, but in each of these instances a tie game prevented a clean sweep.

The gray-haired pilot of the Giants was only three of his series engagements, losing five. Even so, however, he shares the honor of leading in the most victories with Connie Mack, tactician of the Athletics who won three out of five battles for world's championship laurels. McGraw and Mack, who were rival world's series tacticians 19 years ago, had all other managers in series experience. Ranking next to them are three pilots who have figured in three or more title battles—Frank Chance, former "Fearless Leader" of the old Chicago Cubs; Miller Huggins, diminutive pilot of the New York Yankees; and Hugh Jennings, Chicago's rival. McGraw, who led the reins of the Detroit Tigers, Chance and Bill Carrigan, former Boston Red Sox leader, are the only managers besides McGraw and Mack with more than a single victory to their credit. Chance won the series in 1907 and 1908 and Carrigan in 1915 and 1916.

WAVE CATCHES CROWD
 Southsea, England, Sept. 25.—Hundreds of persons at Southsea Beach were thoroughly drenched when a huge wave produced by the passing of two big transatlantic liners swept upon the shore. With ROOSEVELT IN AFRICA

by W. Robert Foran
 © 1924 NEA Service Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
 Robert Foran, newspaper correspondent, accompanies the Theodore Roosevelt expedition into Africa in 1909. They arrive at Mombasa, the "gateway of British East Africa," and then make the railroad journey to their first camp on the game-crowded Kapiti Plains. With Colonel Roosevelt are his son, Kermit, and three scientific members of his staff: Major Edgar A. Mearns, Edmund Heller, and Allen Loving.

After a wonderfully successful shooting trip in the Sotik country, the expedition camps for more hunting at a farm called Saigai-Sai. Going next to Naivasha, the party meets with continued good sport. They await the coming of the rainy season, where Roosevelt is said to have conceived the idea of the game preserve. Now he is giving the main address at the Railroad Institute at Nairobi before a large audience. "I believe this country has a great agricultural and industrial future," he says.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
 "Yet, I hope that you will always keep in mind that a real white man's country can only be built up by making the opportunities favorable for the actual home-maker. It is the actual settler, not the speculator, who should be encouraged. The prime need is for the settlers who will make this country their permanent home and think of it as such; and it is on this account desirable that the largest possible proportion of these men should live on farms which they themselves own, and make their living from the soil.

"There is another point, gentlemen. So far I have your full support. Now I am going to speak at the risk of not receiving your support. In making this a white man's country, remember that the laws of righteousness but your own real and ultimate self-interest demand that the black man be treated with scrupulous justice, that he be safeguarded in his rights, and helped upward and not pressed downward.

"Brutality and injustice are especially hateful when exercised on the helpless. I have no particle of patience with the sentimentalists. I think that sentimentality probably does more harm to the individuals than it is invoked than brutality itself.

"The native tribes hereabouts are, of course, hopelessly incompetent to better themselves or to utilize this country to advantage without white leadership and direction, and progress is the only way. It is the not of years but of many generations. You must occupy a position of unquestioned mastery and leadership; but, for your own sakes as well as for the sake of humanity and morality, in our own west, that leadership and mastery with a deep sense of all the responsibilities which it entails.

"That is why I so emphatically believe in helping the missionary, whatever his creed, who labors so sincerely, so disinterestedly in his field of work.

"Naturally, I have a peculiar feeling for the settlers, because they remind me so much of the men with whom I worked and with whose aspirations and ideals I have so deeply sympathized in our own west.

"But I also have a most profound sympathy for the government officials, for I, too, have been a government official. If you will consult the newspapers of my own land, you will find that there are a great number of persons who can dissemble any liking for me.

"At the risk of seeming to preach, and because of the sincerity of my belief in you and the earnestness of my wish for your future welfare, I want to lay stress on two things especially.

"In the first place, the similarity in so many respects of your conditions here to what I saw in the west nearly a generation ago. This is especially true of your failures and of the effect every failure produces upon the prophets of evil and the men of little faith. In a new country like this you have to try experiments, and that means you have to make occasional failures.

"Thirty years ago, out west, in a certain very large tract of land—a tract larger than all Britain—I saw settlers come swarming in utterly unprepared to cope with the peculiarities of the climate and yet certain that a golden future lay immediately ahead of them and would come of its own accord.

"Boom towns were built where there was nothing whatever to support them, and men who knew nothing of farming in countries of regular and abundant rainfall, started to farm in every direction on every kind of soil.

HIGHT CALM IN JAIL, SHOWING LITTLE STRAIN

Mrs. Sweetin Worried Only About Fate of Her Children, While She Is Held

Nashville, Ill., Sept. 25.—(By the A. P.)—Rev. Lawrence M. Hight, held in jail here in connection with the poison plot which cost the life of his wife, Anna, and the husband of his confessed accomplice, Mrs. Elsie Sweetin today showed no outward strain of his plight while Mrs. Sweetin, in jail at Salem, Illinois, worried more over the future of her three children than her imprisonment.

"Mrs. Sweetin and I are still sweethearts and will remain sweethearts until death part us," the minister said.

Jail attendants said Rev. Hight was jovial and talked frequently. He mentioned his children and for their sake he repeated more than ever of having committed the crime through which they lost their mother. Mrs. Sweetin was visited yesterday by her father-in-law and their conversation mainly regarded the future of their children. She expressed a desire that they be cared for in a Masonic orphanage.

Mrs. Sweetin's apathy to food has aroused concern. The only nourishment she has taken since she was brought here Tuesday was a glass of milk late yesterday. Dr. F. M. Thompson said last night she was on the verge of a nervous breakdown.

URGES SAMPLES PICKED NOW

Wagner Would Have Them Saved For Corn Show

"Pick samples now for the corn show to be held in Bismarck this fall," urges Paul C. C. Wagner, district extension agent. "Burleigh county ranks high in corn production in the state, and there is no reason why a big showing cannot be made."

"Flint corn is mature enough at the present time so that it will make good seed if it is properly dried and cured. Last year this factor was not important, as most of the corn cured on the stalk. The corn should be picked immediately and placed in drying racks, wire nettings, or strung up in a dry place where there is plenty of ventilation and safety from rodents. Don't wait until the time of the show to pick the corn."

"Last year Burleigh was one of the six counties in the state in which more bushels of corn were produced than wheat. The other five counties were in the southeastern corner of the state. This year Burleigh county is ahead of the corn in the eastern section, and the farmers here have a wonderful opportunity to make a reputation for the county if a good corn show is held."

Hog Premiums May Be Secured In Foster County

Carrington, N. D., Sept. 25.—Foster county hog producers will probably be eligible in a few weeks for a premium of ten cents per hundred on all hogs shipped to the terminal markets during the next three years as a result of the tuberculosis eradication campaign put on by County Agent C. C. Lake in cooperation with the North Dakota livestock sanitary board, the bureau of animal husbandry and the county of eligible. In formal application to the United States department of agriculture for the county to be placed on the "modified accredited list" was made a short time ago by the county agent, and as the county has complied with all the requirements, it is anticipated that the application will be granted in a short time. Foster is the first county in North Dakota to become eligible, and there are only two or three other counties in the state in which complete area tests have been made.

To be eligible for this list, all cattle in the county must be tested for tuberculosis, and then the herds in which reactors were found must be tested a second time. When the percentage of infection has been reduced to not more than five-tenths of one percent, the county is eligible. In Foster county the last test showed only 47 reactors out of 13,784 head, or three-tenths of one percent, which is well below the minimum figure set.

Most of the tuberculosis infection in hogs comes from cattle who have the disease according to authorities. Nearly 15 percent of the hogs slaughtered in the country show tuberculosis infection. The packers find very little tuberculosis in hogs shipped from areas in which the disease has been eliminated from cattle, and it is for that reason that the packers are willing to pay the ten-cent premium.

RAY BUSINESS HOUSES INVITED BANDITS—PROMISES A REAL TIME

Ray, N. D., Sept. 25.—In an advertisement published in the local weekly newspaper, inviting the attention of "vegges, holdup artists and brother druggists," the Ray Drug company of this city informs criminals who may be considering the village as a point of attack that "the past record of this city is sufficient to guarantee a real nice picnic for you—music and lots of action for after-hour callers."

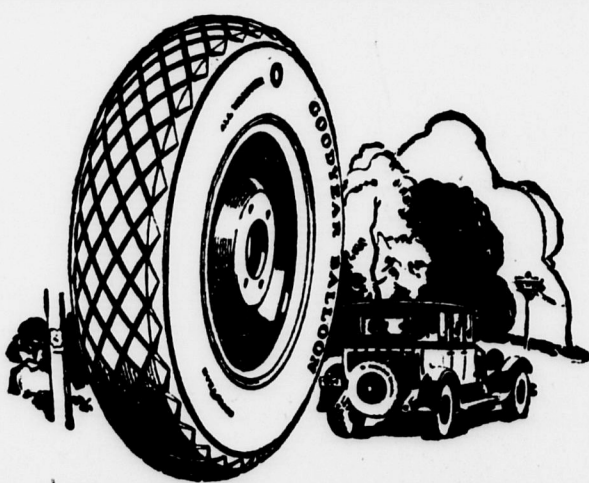

"During business hours we seem a quiet, unassuming populace, but as darkness approaches the mild man changes and it is just as difficult to handle him as trying to tie a knot in the tail end of a cyclone, and woe betide the unlucky guy trying an easy getaway with goods from this city," says the advertisement.

After calling attention to the fact that the company handles glass eyes, wooden legs, crutches and other merchandise of a similar type, the advertisement states that the concern will give free all surgical dressings and surgical work necessary to patch up a perforated anatomy, and if this is not a success, to buy a lot in the cemetery, all for the first year, "captured dead or alive."

Continuing, the advertisement asks why "you vegges, in doing a real job, should pick on a dinky dark little burg and stumble around for hours and possibly scare a lone night watchman to death, when you can step along the highway to a darned good town, and no matter what time of the night it is, you will find it as light as day and any of our night watchmen will greet you royally."

GOOD YEAR

FOURTH STREET IS BOOMING

Many New Residences on This Street

With construction work on four residences under way on North Fourth street and plans for another house announced, Fourth street is enjoying the most consistent building boom of any residence street in the city.

Four other houses on the street were recently completed and five others have been built on the street north of Avenue A in the last two years, making a total of 14 houses on this street in this period.

William Noggle, contractor, has the latest project under way. He is building a six room, two-story house for his own use near the corner of Avenue D, and P. D. Kepsgard, who built a house at the extreme north end of the street last year, plans to start another residence.

FERD. LEUTZ IS INJURED

Hebron, N. D., Sept. 25.—A near serious accident occurred at the Leutz ranch north of here which resulted in painful injuries to Hon. Ferd. Leutz, owner. Mr. Leutz had gone out to the ranch with his Ford to superintend the driving of a large herd of cattle to town for shipment. In cranking the car at the ranch residence the car immediately began to run forward and as it was headed down an incline Mr. Leutz was unable to hold it back and was forced over backward and the car passed completely over him and only stopped when it struck the garden fence. Mrs. Luthie, wife of the ranch foreman, saw the accident and immediately called for help and the victim was carried to the house and made as comfortable as possible until the doctor arrived. It was found that his chest was crushed somewhat but no bones were broken. On advice from his physician he will remain at the ranch until they find that he can be moved to his residence in this city.

RATS EAT CAT

Ayden, N. C., Sept. 25.—A local grocer declared war on rats. He scattered traps throughout his store and locked the prize cat of the neighborhood in the place overnight. The cat made a misstep and was caught in the trap. And the rats ate the cat.

WINTER ROAD WORK HELD UP

Little Maintenance Work To Be Carried On

Very little highway maintenance will be attempted by the state Highway Commission during the coming winter according to T. G. Plomason, maintenance engineer.

Two reasons are given for the lack of activity in the winter maintenance, said Mr. Plomason; the comparatively heavy cost of carrying on the work; and the fact that about 85 per cent of the cars in the state do not use the roads in the winter. While it has not been customary for the state department to maintain the roads in the winter, there has been a rumor to the effect that an attempt would be made to keep them open this winter.

"Buses and other commercial vehicles are about the only ones that use the roads in the winter," said Mr. Plomason, "and it would be folly to use the money paid in by 100 per cent of the vehicles owners to keep the roads open during the snow months for these few vehicles."

Have you seen this new car? —It is a closed-open car!

A WEEK ago the new Studebaker Special Six DUPLEX-PHAETON was first announced.

Today, countless thousands of people are talking about this entirely new type of car.

One moment it is a closed car—in five seconds it can be transformed into a delightful, airy, open car. But it is always the closed car in deep soft cushions, beautiful fittings and finish and luxurious riding comforts.

When you see it and ride in it you will know why it has made so profound a sensation—you will realize then that it gives you more than the finest open car can ever give you, plus the comfort and protection of the closed car.

And all at the price of an open car!

And this is the new DUPLEX BODY on the famous Special Six Chassis.

Hundreds of thousands of owners all over this country and abroad have given the Studebaker Special Six a name for value, dependability and performance second to no other automobile.

The new Studebaker Special Six retains all the qualities which make great reputation—to these have been added every real improvement which science and owner-service could suggest.

Even aside from the sensational new DUPLEX BODY—the Studebaker Special Six has no superior in value in any car yet built. It was the conscientious intention of Studebaker in planning and designing the new Special Six to make it just such a leader—to that end every resource of the great Studebaker organization has been concentrated.

Even if we had the space we could not begin to tell you of the very many new and unusual features which indicate its superiority.

Certainly no words could do justice to its distinctive beauty. In appearance it is unlike any other American car—yet its long, low, broad, sweeping lines are conservative, crisply stylish and in beautifully good taste.

Think of the new Studebaker Special Six Duplex-Phaeton as the ultimate in value and performance in a five-passenger car—think of it as a car matchless in practical convenience and desirability.

But to appreciate the sparkling beauty of its totally new lines you must see it. To know its perfection of operation and performance you must ride in it and drive it.

If you have not seen this NEW type car—come today!
